Hollyoaks will always have a special place in Inside Soap's heart. After all, it's a soap we witnessed being born and have known its whole life – it really does feel like our baby! So, there was no way those treasures from Chester weren't getting an invite to the Inside Soap birthday party. And we went straight to the daddy of Hollyoaks

"There's a bonus for avid readers!"

– Nick Pickard – who introduced us to his very modern family!

But there's also a special bonus in store for people who were avid readers of Inside Soap in the 90s. Star Alex Fletcher, who those with longer memories will remember as Jacqui Dixon, takes a stroll down memory lane – or should that be memory Close?! – while we remember Scouse super-soap Brookside.

Don't worry, though, we haven't gone totally party daft. There's still a whole heap of drama crammed into the issue.

So turn the page to begin this week's ride...

CHESNEY IS LEFT FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE AFTER ROBERT AND RICH FACE OFF IN A VIOLENT SHOWDOWN...

Following the stabbing,
Rich scarpers and Chesney collapses

Robert defends himself – but he isn't the one who gets hurt

Chesney is left seriously injured this week – after he's caught in the crossfire as a violent scene breaks out between Robert and his drug dealer ex-pal Rich.

Disaster strikes when crazed Rich smashes a wine bottle and threatens Robert with it. As the villain spins around, innocent Chesney walks through the door, and is slashed with the lethal weapon...

"Chesney is in the wrong place at the wrong time," sighs Sam Aston, who plays him. "He goes to the Bistro to speak to Daniel and clear the air about Sinead – nothing confrontational, he just wants to make sure there are no hard feelings. But as he enters with all of his good intentions, he's caught up in Robert and Rich's fight."

HERO OF THE HOUR!

Prior to these shocking scenes, former couple Chesney and Sinead decide to get back together after her split from Daniel. Determined to get his renewed relationship off to the right start, Ches wants to make peace with Daniel, with whom he has clashed countless times.

"Chesney worships the ground Sinead walks on – he still loves her," shares Sam. "She's quirky and honest, and they're a good match. Obviously they've had their problems recently, but Chesney still wants to make it work between them."

"But he still has it in his mind that Sinead likes Daniel. Chesney has been trying to be more like Daniel to impress Sinead – he knows that Daniel has loads of literature and academic books, so he thinks this is what Sinead likes. He's trying so hard, bless him – but sometimes it's a bit too much!"

Ironically, it's Daniel who ends up coming to stabbed Chesney's rescue after he collapses. As soon as Rich realises the terrible thing he's done, he drops the bottle and makes a run for it – and Bistro worker Daniel is the first to rush to Ches' side.

INSIDE SCOOP

He desperately tries to stop the bleeding while waiting for an ambulance to arrive, and keeps on talking to shell-shocked Chesney in a bid to keep him conscious.

"Daniel shows that he is a decent person, even after everything that he and Chesney have been through," says Sam. "He sees Ches in this terrible state and comes to his aid. They are really nice scenes, actually. It's good that Chesney and Daniel aren't hissing in each other's faces for once!"

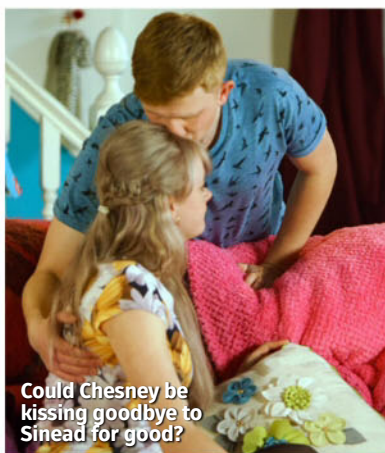

SINEAD'S SORROW

Unfortunately, this touching moment is misinterpreted when Sinead arrives on the scene. Seeing Daniel cradling bloodied Chesney in his arms, Sinead jumps to the conclusion that her ex has attacked him. Daniel is of course devastated that she could think such a thing, but it's at that moment that paramedics come rushing in, and Chesney is taken away in an ambulance.

As Ches battles for survival in hospital with Sinead at his bedside, Sam hopes his loved-up alter ego can pull through – since he's just as delighted as Ches that Sinead is back in his life...

"When Sinead and Chesney broke up, it was really weird for me – like the end of an era," he admits. "I get on very well with Katie [McGlynn], who plays Sinead, and she's great fun to be around. We have a laugh and we're comfortable with one another, so it was strange to not work together so much.

"As for Daniel, I couldn't see Ches and him sat in the Rovers having a pint together and being best buds or anything," adds Sam. "But if Chesney does manage to recover, it would be nice if he and Daniel could start seeing eye to eye in the future."

Could Chesney be kissing goodbye to Sinead for good?

And the star says it was cool to film these dramatic scenes.

"It was great fun! I've been here a while, but never done anything like this before..."

Robert's secret past!

He has a shocking confession for girlfriend Michelle...

Rich and Robert's devastating showdown breaks out after Rich turns up at the Bistro to blackmail Robert into laundering his dodgy money through the restaurant.

Determined to make Robert pay, Rich has more than enough damning material with which to manipulate him, as he threatens to spill the beans to his partner Michelle if the Bistro boss refuses to play ball. However, the terrible incident involving Chesney prompts Robert to come clean himself.

What will Michelle make of what Robert has to tell her about his past – and will their relationship survive the consequences?

Steven's obsession with Lauren gets even creepier this week, when he plants a hidden camera on her!

The insecure fella has already triggered an app on his girlfriend's phone that enables him to track her every move. But when Lauren's sister Abi inadvertently gives him the idea to take his surveillance to the next level, sinister Steven puts a chilling plan into action...

"Steven already had his doubts about Lauren and their relationship – but Abi has come along and put all sorts of terrible ideas in his head," our Square source reminds us. "Of course Steven's behaviour is outrageous, but it's only because he loves Lauren. He's terrified of losing her."

However, Abi's meddling is another matter entirely given that she's clearly taken a shine to her sibling's man. The pair shared a passionate encounter following a heated row after her 21st birthday party, where Abi also snogged Lauren's boss, Josh! But it's Steven whom Abi is genuinely Steven turns super spy!

HE GOES TO DESPERATE LENGTHS TO KEEP AN EYE ON LAUREN...

Abi is peeved that Steven is so fixated on her sister infatuated with, as she continues to try to worm her way into his affections. Will he take the bait?

It would seem not, after Steven tells Abi in no uncertain terms that what happened between them was a mistake, and their liaison meant nothing. But when Abi later realises that Steven is tracking Lauren's phone, she suggests that maybe he's dating the wrong Branning sister – and unwittingly gives him the idea to advance his spying techniques.

"Steven buys Lauren a phone charger that has a camera hidden within it," explains our sneak. "He's adamant that something is going on between Lauren and Josh, so the camera is the perfect way to observe the two of them while they're at work together. However, Steven may wish that he'd left things well alone after what he sees..."

"Steven may wish that he had left things well alone..."

LAUREN VS ABI!

Which sister should Steven be pursuing?

LOOKS

A natural beauty (and also a previous winner of Inside Soap's Sexiest Female Award!). Any man would be lucky to have a girl as gorgeous as Lauren. 5/5

We've watched sweet Abi grow into a beautiful though not-so-innocent young woman – but perhaps her more mature sister has the edge in style and poise. 4/5

PERSONALITY

She's kind and passionate about everything she does – but sometimes she doesn't think of those around her, which can leave them out in the cold. 4/5

She's fun, quirky and has an amusing dry sense of humour. But when Abi's pushed, she has a definite dark side that can be deadly... 3/5

RELATIONSHIPS

Lauren has possibly the worst track record with men, ever! From kissing her cousin Joey to a disastrous fling with married alcoholic Jake Stone, she's checked into every heartbreak hotel within a five-mile radius. 1/5

Teenage sweethearts Abi and Jay were the Square's golden couple for years. But after they split, she embarked on a disastrous relationship with gay Ben, then slept with Lee Carter – leading to them all getting an STI. 2/5

CRIMINAL DEEDS

Lauren should be permanently banned from driving. She deliberately mowed down her own father, Max, when she was just a teen – and was also to blame for a car crash involving herself and Joey when she was driving while drunk. 1/5

Abi's licence isn't spotless either. She reversed over her dog, Tramp, and didn't even care! She also lied under oath while her dad was on trial for Lucy Beale's murder, and deliberately shut Aunt Babe inside a giant freezer. 1/5

EMOTIONAL BAGGAGE

Lauren's a recovering alcoholic whose liver could pack up the minute she so much as sniffs a bottle of vodka – and she'll always be tied to Steven's brother, Peter, through their son Louie. 2/5

Abi certainly has dysfunctional dad issues, and she REALLY resents her sister. She's clearly been scarred by her chaotic upbringing – but maybe all Abi wants is for someone to love her? 3/5

TOTAL 13/25

TOTAL 13/25

InsideSoap says... It's a tie – which might be a sign for Steven to avoid both of them! Given the girls' recent behaviour, we feel that Abi's very deliberate meddling gives Lauren the edge over her as to who Steven should be with. Mind you, as his behaviour spirals further out of control, we think he and Abi couldn't be more perfect for one another...

Once Abi learns of Steven's plan, she asks him why he's bothering to track Lauren when he could just be her boyfriend instead! Steven insists that Lauren is the one he wants – until he later reviews his secret footage of her and witnesses Josh inviting his partner for a drink.

Will proof of their closeness push Steven over the edge? And will he turn to Abi again if he thinks that Lauren is definitely cheating on him with her boss?

Lawrence's shotgun terror!

AS HE CONFRONTS CHRISSIE'S UNCLE, WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF?

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Lawrence tries to destroy Chrissie's attempts to connect with her biological dad this week – by threatening her uncle, Tim. But he soon finds himself staring down the barrel of a shotgun!

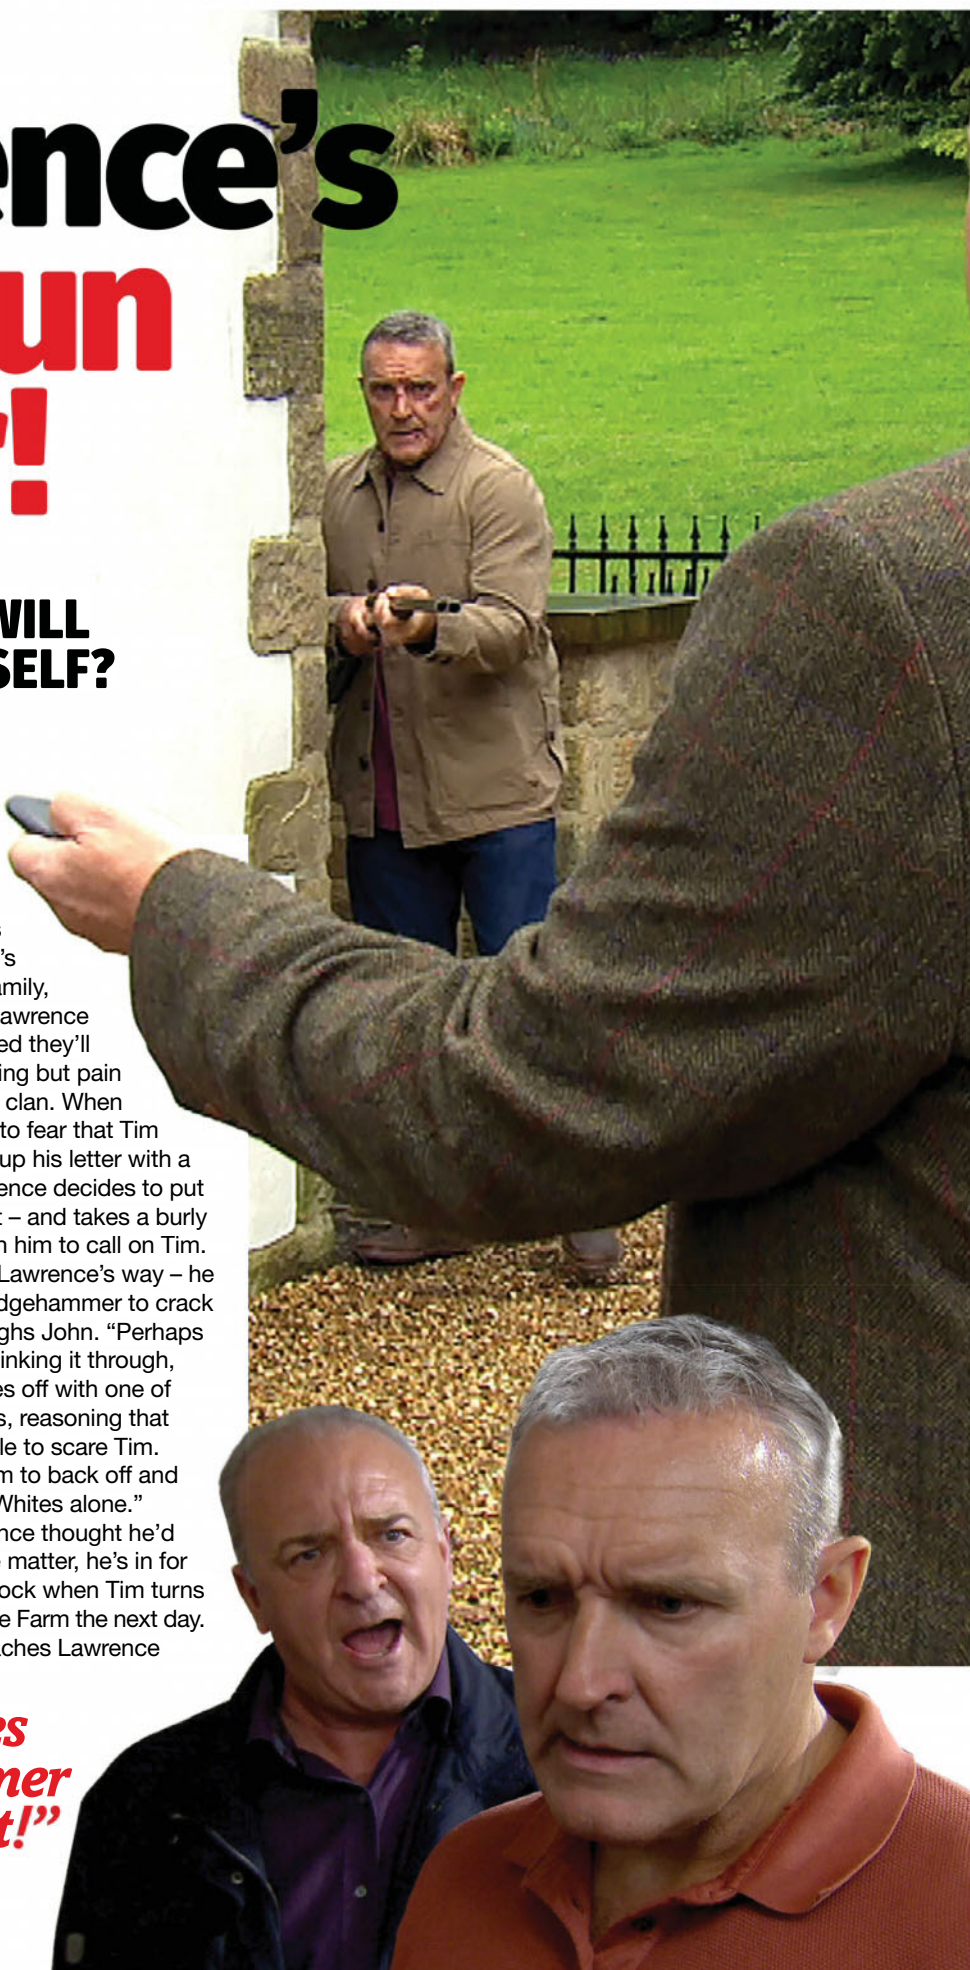

As Chrissie closes in on the truth about her parentage, Lawrence is on a mission to stop her, convinced that he is the only one she needs. He's terrified that if Chrissie meets her father, he'll lose her – but Lawrence's twisted actions can only lead to trouble...

"The problem with Lawrence is that he's always doing the wrong thing for the right reasons," insists John Bowe, who plays the determined patriarch. "He's trying to protect his family and his relationship with Chrissie. He managed to intercept a letter from Tim to Chrissie, so he thinks he's stemmed the flow of blood and stopped any infiltration into the Whites."

There must be some very interesting characters in Chrissie's paternal family, because Lawrence is convinced they'll bring nothing but pain to his own clan. When he begins to fear that Tim will follow up his letter with a visit, Lawrence decides to put a stop to it – and takes a burly lackey with him to call on Tim.

"This is Lawrence's way – he uses a sledgehammer to crack a nut!" laughs John. "Perhaps he's not thinking it through, but he goes off with one of his heavies, reasoning that he'll be able to scare Tim. He tells him to back off and leave the Whites alone."

If Lawrence thought he'd settled the matter, he's in for a nasty shock when Tim turns up at Home Farm the next day. He approaches Lawrence

Lawrence has bitten off a lot more than he can chew with Tim

"Lawrence has a heart of gold, but he's a conflicting character because he'll also do the most appalling things to achieve what he believes is the right result. There are secrets regarding Chrissie's father and Tim that could be unearthed – and Lawrence will do anything to make sure that they stay buried."

However, as he finds himself on the wrong end of Tim's gun, are Lawrence's schemes already dead in the water?

MAKING HIS MARK!

The actor playing Tim is a very familiar face...

While Tim is an unwelcome guest at Home Farm, it's a treat to have actor Mark Moraghan back on our screens. Mark is well known for his many drama roles, including Brookside's Greg Shadwick and Holby City's Owen Davis – and he recently starred in Coronation Street as Adrian Mortimer, who met Eileen via an internet dating site.

Adrian scarpered from Weatherfield after Eileen's conniving son Todd scuppered their romance, but now Mark is looking forward to Tim causing havoc in the Dales. And his cast mate John is thrilled to be working alongside him...

"Mark and I have a lot in common but have never crossed paths before, so it's a delight to meet him," John tells us. "We've had great fun doing our scenes – Mark is a good man and we're having a lovely time."

Cindy's dirty tactics!

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 TUESDAY

SHE'S DETERMINED TO BE THE NEXT COUNCILLOR OF HOLLYOAKS...

Sneaky Cindy stoops to a new low in a bid to win the council election this week – by faking a robbery at the Emporium! The mum-of-three is determined to win the much-coveted seat on the local council, thus beating her arch-nemesis Simone in the process. And she's willing to fight dirty to get what she wants...

"After Simone's flat was burgled, the press got involved – so Cindy thinks that if the same thing happens to her, she'll get the publicity too!" chuckles Stephanie Waring, who plays power-hungry Cindy. "She's just trying to think of any tactic she can to win favour with the public and raise her profile. And in typical Cindy fashion, she's certain she'll get away with it!"

While Cindy may not have the political knowledge that her rival Simone does, she certainly makes up for it in confidence. So as she and Simone prepare to do battle in the village walkathon, cocky Cindy is convinced that she'll manage to trounce her opposition once again and be crowned the victor.

"I personally don't think Cindy knows enough about politics and what it takes to be a councillor," admits Steph. "She just thinks she can wing it! At first she was only doing it because Simone was looking down her nose at her – but now Cindy genuinely believes that she could be the next councillor of Hollyoaks! She's on a power trip at the moment."

The rivalry between the two women reaches fever pitch as the week draws to a close and the locals begin to cast their votes. However, as Cindy and Simone square up for the final debate of their campaigns, things very quickly go awry.

"It does end up getting a bit personal, and Cindy goes for the jugular," reveals Steph. "It's kind of a tit-for-tat situation, though, because Simone does it too – it's only when the line is crossed that they realise how far they've gone..."

By the end of the week, one of the women will be named as the new local councillor for Hollyoaks. So will sly Cindy's wicked tricks win her the seat? Or will she be forced to lick her wounds as Simone is crowned the overall winner?

Roo's shock collapse!

IS SHE LOSING HER BABY?

The lives of Roo and her unborn baby hang in the balance this week, when the mum-to-be falls unconscious on the side of the road!

Roo is forced to pull over in her car after she suffers severe stomach pains, before losing consciousness while trying to call for help. Fortunately, local medics Nate and Tori happen to be driving by on Nate's motorbike – but poor Roo's situation doesn't look good...

"Just before she passes out, Roo manages to honk her car horn to get Nate and Tori's attention," explains our Bay insider. "She's very lucky to have two doctors on hand to treat her – though when they realise that Roo is pregnant, Nate and Tori fear that she might be losing the baby."

As they race Roo to hospital in her car, Nate and Tori discuss the possibility that she could be suffering an ectopic pregnancy. Given the gravity of the whole situation, they prep Roo for surgery – but before they have the chance to get her to theatre, Roo goes into cardiac arrest!

"Things don't look good for Roo," sighs our spy. "By this point, Alf and Leah are at the hospital too, and all they can do is watch on in horror as Tori is forced to administer CPR to Roo. It's a scary time for all involved, and nobody can say for certain whether Roo and the baby will pull through..."

Meanwhile, Alf also starts to look ropery, and as his condition worsens, Nate fears he's having a heart attack! Will it be a double tragedy for the Stewart family?

MARY WEDS NORRIS?

We've spotted them all dolled up and at the register office...

Inside Soap has been waiting for an excuse to go out and buy a hat, and it looks as if our chance has arrived!

These sneaky snaps of the Corrie gang filming on location suggest that Mary and Norris will tie the knot. There has been no indication on screen that the comedy double act are anything more than just good friends – but are they finally set to realise they're made for one another?

"Remember the early days of Mary and Norris, when she was ever so slightly obsessed with him?" recalls our cobbles insider. "Perhaps after all this time, Mary is finally going to get her man. It'll be the Street wedding of the decade!"

The truth is that Mary and Norris have always been soulmates, though never in a romantic way. However, Mary has admitted that she's hugely grateful to Norris for helping her come to terms with her painful past – and coupled with the terrible anguish he felt when she nearly moved to South Africa, it's slowly become clear that the pair can't live without each other. And what better way to be forever in each other's lives than to make it official and become husband and wife?

"As amazing as that would be, this is Mary and Norris we're talking about," chuckles our spy. "You wouldn't put it past them to be involved in some madcap scheme that would require them to get hitched. It's probably the more likely scenario – but we can dream!"

Is he poised to confess his sins?

Recently we revealed that there could be light at the end of the tunnel for Street baddy Phelan, as he attempts to reconcile with his daughter Nicola. And in these pictures, it looks as though Pat is on the road to redemption – as he heads to church!

Star Connor McIntyre was spotted filming scenes where Phelan appears to be following a sign that welcomes parishioners to offer their confession – and Pat has plenty to get off his chest! ADAM QUILTS THE DALES Moira's son is waving goodbye to the village...

The rumours have been doing the rounds for a while, but now Inside Soap can confirm the news that Adam Thomas, aka Adam Barton, is leaving Emmerdale.

The 28-year-old star – who came third in the most recent series of I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! – has announced that he'll be departing the soap early next year.

"I've had an amazing eight years working on Emmerdale, and loved every minute," says Adam. "It was a tough decision to leave, but I feel that now is the time to move on and challenge myself with new roles."

"Adam has given us plenty of notice, so we've been able to prepare a huge exit story for him," adds Dales boss Iain MacLeod. "I'm really excited to see it play out on screen, however sad it will be to bid farewell to a brilliant character and cast member. He's a top bloke."

EASTENDERS

Life for Michelle Fowler was starting to feel too good to be true after she bagged a new job and a nice fella to boot.

'Nosebleed man' Tom appeared to be just what Chelle needed to make a fresh start, following their charming date together recently. However, his true colours were soon revealed as viewers saw the creep taking pictures of the Mitchell house – where Michelle is living – before losing his rag with a random passer-by when they accidentally bumped into him. So is Michelle set to find herself in terrible danger with this volatile man?

"It's fair to assume so," despairs our EastEnders spy. "After her disastrous affair with 17-year-old Preston, and the breakdown of her marriage to Tim, Michelle is thrilled to have met someone who seems so normal. But it seems that beneath the surface lies a swine!"

Walford boss Sean O'Connor produced The Archers before moving to EastEnders, so we've immediately drawn comparisons between this plot and one of his hugely successful stories from the BBC Radio 4 drama.

Listeners were gripped by the events that unfolded between Helen and Rob – the latter of whom seemed like the perfect man, before he turned out to be a manipulative monster. Helen ended up stabbing Rob to escape from his evil clutches, so is Michelle destined for similar drama?

Will we see a similar story to Helen and Rob's in The Archers?

STE & BRENDAN REUNITED!

The popular couple are back together...

It's the reunion Hollyoaks fans have been longing to see, as former lovers Ste and Brendan meet again for the first time in four years!

Sadly there's no reconciliation on screen for the men, as they are currently languishing in separate prisons. However, stars Emmett J Scanlan and Kieron Richardson have come together in order to help present a special Hollyoaks documentary, as part of a new Channel 4 series aiming to honour the LGBT community.

Hollyoaks: Pride features clips from plots such as Ste and Brendan in Dublin, Craig and John Paul's first kiss, and Kim and Esther in the soap's first-ever lesbian wedding.

Watch the show on Channel 4 catch-up service All 4, following its premiere last week. Excuse us as we squeal with delight!

Todd and Billy decide to attend Drew's funeral for the sake of Summer

Emotions run high for would-be parents Todd and Billy this week – as they witness Summer's grief at Drew's funeral.

Having come around to the idea of parenting the little girl, Todd is now pushing Billy to ignore the vile threats from Drew's homophobic parents and be strong for Summer. It's not easy, since Drew's mother Geraldine has been particularly spiteful in her hatred against them for being gay. But Todd won't allow her to disrespect Drew's final wishes and airbrush them out of the picture...

"Don't get in the way of Todd!" warns Bruno Langley, who plays him. "It's not a good idea for Geraldine to tell him that he can't see Summer, because that just makes him want to do so more – and Todd usually gets what he wants. But that's just part of it as Todd has actually met Summer now, and he is aware that she's a special kid. He has come full circle where Summer is concerned."

TODD AND BILLY REACH OUT TO DREW'S HEARTBROKEN ORPHAN...

GOODBYE, DAD

When Todd and Billy arrive at the church for the funeral service, the vicar warns the pair that Drew's parents have banned them from attending. While Billy wonders if they should respect their wishes, Todd is resolved that they will be there for Summer. It's a heartbreaking moment when the little girl bravely stands up to deliver the eulogy. She's soon consumed with emotion, though, prompting Billy to step up to support her.

"Todd has told Billy they must go in and take a stand for what they believe in," says Bruno. "Drew made it clear that he wanted Billy to have a relationship with Summer.

Todd has a dark side, but anyone hearing a little girl stand up and deliver a eulogy about her father is bound to feel torn apart. Witnessing Matilda [Freeman, who plays Summer] do the scene made me very proud of her, and Todd feels the same way about Summer."

Despite this moment, and Billy rushing to Summer's side, the boys are sad when the lass says she doesn't want to live with them. As a result of the hatred coming from her grandparents, her feelings are conflicted – but Todd and Billy are desperate to be parents to her.

"Todd has come full circle where Summer is concerned"

REPRESENT ME

While all the funeral stuff is going on, Todd discovers that

Todd can't believe Summer is his and Adam's first customer...

...but can Todd trust scheming Adam to treat the little'un fairly?

Adam Barlow is back, has set up the legal practice they discussed, and has put Todd on his business card – forcing Todd to step up and take the role. But imagine his surprise when he discovers that Summer is their first client. “It’s a shock, but all Todd wants to do is chat to Summer, and to make her realise that he and Billy are the best people to have her,” shares Bruno. “He doesn’t trust Adam at all, but if he and Billy are going to raise a child and have their own place, Todd really needs a job. He’s a pragmatist, and knows that he can make money with Adam – but he’s determined to not let anything bad happen to Summer.”

Family crisis for Sonia!

CAN SHE GET HER CLAN BACK ON TRACK?

EASTENDERS | BBC1 TUESDAY

Sonia is at her poorly grandma's bedside following her fall

Sonia's dreams of a happy family set-up in Walford hit a snag this week, as she struggles to re-establish her place in Albert Square.

Having returned to find Dot in a terrible state, Sonia is determined to give her gran the support and care she needs.

She can't believe her family have let things get so bad for the vulnerable pensioner, but now she and brother Robbie are back, they can be there for her. However, without a place to live and with trouble between her and her ex-husband Martin, it doesn't look as if Sonia will find her return an easy one.

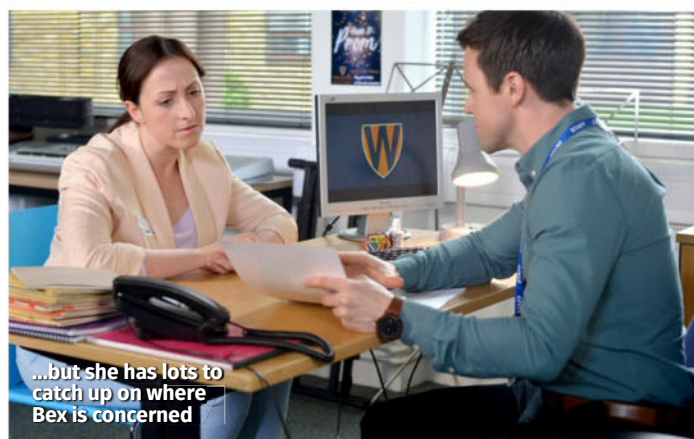

"Nobody doubts that Sonia's heart is in the right place," says our Walford insider. "But she can't just storm in and order everyone about. Of course, Dot desperately needs the love and support the Jacksons can offer, and having Sonia and Robbie move in would be perfect. But even that isn't straightforward."

Dot got on the wrong side of the authorities a few years ago when they discovered that she was letting out a room to lodger Fatboy. She's terrified that if she allows Sonia and Robbie to do the same, she'll get in bother again. So, the priority on Sonia's to-do list is to visit the Citizens Advice

"Having Sonia and Robbie move in would be perfect for Dot..."

Sonia might think she can come back and reclaim her daughter...

...but she has lots to catch up on where Bex is concerned

Tina and Sonia reconnect...

One person who is truly thrilled to see Sonia make a return to the Square is her ex-girlfriend Tina.

She was heartbroken when Sonia called off their relationship and moved away, and has found it tough to move on ever since. So, as the pair get together to catch up on what's happened over the past few months, there's a lot to discuss.

Their relationship ended thanks in part to Tina cheating on Sonia, and because of the immense strain put on them both while caring for dementia-stricken Sylvie. But having had some time apart, and a chance to reflect on where they went wrong, could there be a way forward for Tina and Sonia – and is that what they both want?

Bureau, where she can find out what can be done. In Sonia's mind, it's crucial that she gets a roof over her – and Robbie's – head, but also that she makes a home for her daughter Bex.

What Sonia hasn't banked on are Bex's thoughts on all this. She just assumed that if she came back to Walford, Bex would come to live with her. But Sonia hasn't realised just how close her daughter is to dad Martin and stepmum Stacey, and how much she likes the family set-up they have. It's certainly an awkward situation for the youngster to be in, and Sonia is forced to agree that the decision lies solely with her daughter.

"No kid should be asked to choose between their mum and dad like this," sighs our snoop. "Bex has had a really tough time recently, and she's finally managing to settle down. Another upheaval is the last thing that she needs."

Can Martin and Sonia find a way to make it work for Bex?

Emma's evil plan!

THE KILLER HAS YOUNG
ARTHUR IN HER SIGHTS...

EMMERDALE | ITV TUESDAY

Guilty Emma fears Arthur is on the brink of exposing her role in the Hotten bypass pile-up, so this week the nurse sets out to buy the lad's silence...

Poor Arthur was terrified by the footage of Emma's manipulation of Ashley, who was the only one to witness her standing on the bridge on the day of the horrible accident. The boy has yet to fess up to what he's seen, but Emma is petrified he'll soon share her deranged performance. And with the Barton family finally achieving some kind of normality since James' death, Emma is determined to shut Arthur down.

"Arthur has been too scared to confide in anyone about what he saw, but the longer that he stays quiet, the easier it is for Emma to take back control," warns our Emmerdale insider. "She's behaved abhorrently towards her family in the past, though never failed to talk her way back into their good books. We know she can spin a story, so how hard could it be to manipulate a grieving and traumatised nine-year-old?"

Emma decides to take action by graciously offering to escort squirming Arthur to the bus stop, and she uses the journey to give the reasons behind her actions in the tape. It's another show-stopping display – but in spite of Arthur's doubts over what he's seen, Emma realises that the only way to save her skin is by destroying the video once and for all! Will she be able to get her hands on it?

"Emma and Laurel go on a walk, but Emma fakes an injury, and quickly makes her way to Mulberry Cottage!" explains our spy. "This is her golden opportunity to steal the evidence. Her plan is foiled, though, when Laurel gets back and wants to know exactly what she's doing. This is a huge blow, because the last thing Emma wanted to do was draw attention to herself."

Laurel is stunned by Emma's behaviour, and even shares her concerns with Harriet, who has taken Emma under her wing since she joined the Church. Meanwhile, running out of options, Emma asks God to help her devise a new plan. Surprisingly, it seems the man upstairs is listening to her prayers, as she suddenly has a light-bulb moment – and gets ready to set her trap for vulnerable Arthur...

Although Arthur is keeping quiet for now, Laurel senses something is troubling her child, and decides to seek advice when he starts wetting the bed. But the person she chooses to turn to is Emma! Is Laurel unwittingly putting her little boy in terrible danger?

"It's free lunch for dads. But how are we going to tell if he's a father?"

"That's easy. Just 'ave a little look at his boat. If he looks tired, or if he looks miserable, or if he looks like he's given up on life... then he's a dad."

"The fairground owner got the impression I was after his missus, and I had to make a run for it. And if it hadn't been for my ponytail, I'd have got away with it. But he grabbed me and I went down like Madonna at the Brit Awards."

It's so good to have Rodney back. There's something so totally Emmerdale about him.

"I'd find the idea of Heaven comforting if I thought my dad would be sat up there on a fluffy white cloud, eating falafel. But, scientifically, that's just stupid."

Sensible Summer now has us worried that we might have to eat falafel in Heaven. We were hoping for mini sausage rolls.

"He gets into your head. Really deep. Before I knew it, I didn't want to be around anyone but him. Nathan always made sure that me and my mum were at each other's throats, and I couldn't see it. He was the best thing that had ever happened to me."

It's been a long time since we've seen a scene as moving as Bethany's police interview.

"I think a weekend in Paris says 'besotted'. I'm not sure what a weekend in Cleethorpes says."

How dare you, Leyla. Cleethorpes is very romantic. Especially with Grimsby so close.

No justice for Bethany!

NATHAN'S EVIL PALS
HELP HIM TO ESCAPE THE LAW...

Sarah is stunned to learn that the police won't be charging Nathan Brave Bethany is left distraught this week, after the police admit they are dropping the case against wicked Nathan.

Despite knowing that Nathan was trying to sell Bethany into a dark world of sex trafficking abroad, the detectives' case isn't robust enough to charge him. But there's worse to come when Bethany's mum Sarah turns to someone she think can help – vile copper Neil, who is in cahoots with Nathan!

"After the hell she went through at the hands of Nathan and then her courageous escape, Bethany hoped she could save other girls from the same fate," sighs our cobbles source. "She's found comfort in talking to Mary, who was also a victim of rape. She understands Bethany's pain."

What they haven't bargained on is how adept Nathan is at evading the law – helped by Neil, who works for the sex trafficking ring. So it's a horrible moment for Sarah when she has to explain to Bethany that the police have been round to let them know that the Crown Prosecution Service can't pursue the case.

The news hits Bethany hard, and she turns all her anger on herself. It doesn't matter that everyone, including the authorities, are telling her that she is the victim in all of this – Bethany feels as though she's to blame. She thinks that she was stupid to fall for Nathan, and gullible to believe him. And given her history of self-harm, Sarah is terrified that Bethany will do something foolish.

"The problem is, Sarah believes she knows someone who can help her daughter through all of this," shares our snoop. "So she calls the 'kindly' policeman who helped her and the family reach out to Bethany during their lowest moments. What Sarah doesn't realise is that the man she trusts is Neil – the ringleader of Nathan's group of criminals who rape and traffick girls!"

What will happen when Bethany faces one of the men who destroyed her life? And will she find the strength to reveal what Neil is really like?

Jenny is hurt when the factory girls receive wedding invitations for her cancelled nuptials, and she hopes it might be a sign that Johnny wants her back – though he soon admits that he simply forgot to cancel the order.

Not one to let the grass grow, businessman Matthew decides to make a move on Jenny, and invites her out for a drink. She turns him down at first, but he puts his number on her phone anyway – and later Jenny chooses to go for it.

What she doesn't realise is that Johnny still loves her, and only cancelled their wedding due to his MS diagnosis. He's in turmoil, and after discovering that Jenny is being wooed by Matthew, Johnny drowns his sorrows in the Rovers. Landlady Liz realises the depth of his pain, and invites Johnny into the back room to talk it over – but sadly for them, Jenny's BFF Gemma spots them and thinks something is going on!

She calls Jenny, who abandons Matthew mid-date at the Bistro to storm into the pub and confront Johnny over cheating on her with Liz. It's an ugly moment as harsh words are exchanged before Jenny rushes back to the Bistro. Chasing after her to explain, Johnny can't contain his anger when he sees his client wining and dining the woman he loves – and makes the sort of scene that will have the cobbles gossip mill churning for weeks.

RANT! RAVE! WE LOVE TO HEAR YOUR OPINIONS!

JACK OUTSIDE THE BOX

In EastEnders, I think Jack is missing what's right under his nose – and the scriptwriters are missing a trick! Honey would be the perfect nanny for Jack's kids: they know her, she's good with them, and she gets on well with their dad. So come on, Jack – get your head on straight!

📍 | Debbi, Derby

GET HER OUT!

I hope that when Lawrence leaves Emmerdale, Chrissie will do us all a favour and leave as well. She's turned into a nasty, selfish snob. The way she spoke to Belle and Priya recently was disgusting. Yet she's always going on about how wonderful her son is, and acts like he's an angel. I'm sick of her whining about someone needing to pay for what they did to her precious Lachy. I'd love to see her hounded out of the village.

📍 | Miss Miller, Devon

That's fighting talk, Miss Miller! And we're not ones to stir up trouble, but you're forgetting that Chrissie was also responsible for the helicopter crash...

HAIL THE SAVIOURS!

It's good to see that the production team at EastEnders have got their act together at last! Bolshie Karen Taylor and her dysfunctional family are exactly what the programme needs right now. EastEnders has become very bland and stale of late, and the Taylors are sure to bring a lot of laughter and tears and havoc.

📍 | Bernard, Brighton

This is an all-time first for a new EastEnders family – the Inside Soap postbag has been uniformly positive!

I love the Taylors in EastEnders! They're a breath of fresh air. And how long, do you think, until Keanu starts work at the Arches?

📍 | Sarah, London

The Taylor family are just what EastEnders needs to get those ratings back up. Even though I was very surprised to discover that Karen is Keegan's mum, I think she's going to be a great character. I can't help but see her as a young Cora Cross – with no airs or graces but with bags of confidence, and a good person at heart!

📍 | Sharonjit, Birmingham

I love the Taylors too! Now turn to p42 for our exclusive in-depth chat with Lorraine Stanley – aka lioness Karen, matriarch of the clan.

Po wasn't impressed with Dipsy and Laa-Laa's makeovers

CHALK & CHEESE

I love the new Hollyoaks pairing of Myra and Marnie. It's been a real laugh watching them together this week. It was great to see Marnie in her onesie, trying to enjoy a karaoke night at the McQueens'. Lysette Anthony and Nicole Barber-Lane are so funny together!

👉 | Sandra, Liverpool

It's always the most unlikely soap pairings that deliver the best entertainment.

THE STREET RULES!

I am a huge fan of the Aussie soaps: Home and Away, Neighbours – and Wentworth Prison! But over the last few months

I have been playing catch-up on the New Zealand soap Shortland

Street, which is still going... and OMG, it's awesome! It would give Hollyoaks and Casualty a run for their money. ITV made a mistake cancelling this all those years ago. So come on, Laura, let's campaign to bring it back to the UK!

👉 | Dan

As soon as I've recovered from Glastonbury, I'll start making those 'Bring Back Shortland Street' banners...

FINCH THE DEAL

It's sweet how upset Cain was about

Harriet being attacked in Emmerdale. You could tell it made Moira fancy him again...

👉 | Andy

And our money is on Moira... Sorry, Harriet!

The BIG DEBATE!

BETHANY ASKS FOR HELP

We were all gripped this week when it seemed that vile Corrie abuser Nathan was poised to whisk his victim out of the country. But kindly Mary's wise words helped Bethany to take a stand...

I'm overjoyed that Bethany has finally seen the light and escaped Nathan's evil clutches. I was having palpitations when Nathan snatched her phone and smashed the sim card so she couldn't call her family, and I thought he was going to grab her before she could ask anyone else for help. The fact that people have found this controversial storyline and Bethany's vulnerability so difficult to watch just shows what a great actress Lucy Fallon is. Now, if we can just see Nathan and his creepy mates get what they deserve, I'll be really happy.

👉 | Ann, Runcorn

Lucy Fallon is amazing. What an actress! What a performance! My heart was in my mouth when Bethany was telling her story in the police interview room.

I loved it when the female police officer said to her: "You've got so much courage, it's incredible."

👉 | Angie, Sittingbourne

The other great Corrie star this week was Mary. It was a really powerful moment when she confronted Nathan and refused to back down. "You do not get to bully me!" What a woman!

👉 | Benji

Sadly, Bethany is still caught up in a Line Of Duty-style criminal conspiracy...

Poor Bethany – she's come so far, but is still trapped by the fact that Neil is a policeman and able to scare her to death. I hope Craig soon spots what a dodgy character Neil is!

WHO NOSE?

Why do I recognise Michelle Fowler's creepy new fella – 'nosebleed man' Tom – in EastEnders? Has he been in it before?

📍 | Mark, Devon

You'll kick yourself! Actor Daniel Casey, 45, played DS Gavin Troy – sidekick to John Nettles' DI Barnaby – in six series of the long-running ITV drama Midsomer Murders. Daniel hasn't been in EastEnders before, but he did appear in Coronation Street recently as Simon Barlow's football coach, who went on a date with Leanne.

THE BIG
interview

MAIN PHOTO: CAMERA PRESS / NICKY JOHNSTON

“Never mind Aidan – I want Maria & David to get together!”

As Maria and Aidan’s affair begins to unravel, Samia Longchambon reckons her character would be better off going for a single man...

“Maria is the girl next door who’s never going to get the happy ending she craves,” predicts

Samia Longchambon, who plays the hairdresser. “I think Liam Connor was the love of her life, and she’s always searching for another big love like that, but not found it. It’s sad, really!”

Samia may have pity for her alter ego’s plight, but that doesn’t stop her from rolling her eyes in exasperation as we talk about Maria’s doomed affair with Aidan. And we’re particularly grateful to have the star join us in the Bistro today, given that the mum-of-two has just been to the dentist, but powers on despite the effects of the anaesthetic!

After a whopping 17 years on the cobbles, minx Maria is no stranger to a love triangle – and Samia is the first to condemn her choices when it comes to men. However, the actress’ giggling throughout the chat tells us that she wouldn’t have it any other way...

Can you believe Maria has got herself involved in another affair?

Oh, she’s such a massive fool! I feel like banging her head against a wall. She really should have learnt her lesson about 16 years ago when Tyrone cheated on her with Fiz.

Were you surprised Maria was the one to restart the fling with Aidan?

Yeah, at the time I questioned that in the script. She’d just got out of prison – she’d come out stronger, and she’d already told Aidan she wasn’t happy being his bit on the side. But after I had a chat with the story editors, they convinced me that Maria would go along with it because she does think there’s a chance for them to be together. Eventually Aidan will realise she’s the woman of his dreams!

Is there another man you reckon Maria should turn her attention to?

I think Maria and David should get together, and I keep saying it to Jack P Shepherd [who plays David]. Jack rarely gets excited about stuff, but he’s not opposed to the idea! They’ve both had partners murdered, they both have kids, and they’ve grown up together working in the salon. It’s fun to play because they are such good friends, and you want them to get together. It’s like a romcom!

Is Maria worried about the repercussions once the truth comes out about her and Aidan?

I think so. Maria doesn't want to hurt Eva at all, and she's not doing this to be vindictive – she genuinely loves Aidan and thinks she's better suited to him. Then again, she and Tracy are on good terms now – and Tracy murdered Charlie Stubbs because of his affair with Maria! Maria is friends with Fiz, too, even though she stalked Tyrone and tried to nick him off her. Once you've done their hair, all is forgiven!

However, Toyah has yet to forgive Maria for sleeping with her older boyfriend John Arnley way back in 2003! Is there a chance they could be friends again one day?

It was nice all those years ago when they lived together, but that grudge is here to stay. I think it will all hit the fan, because Toyah and Eva are very close now. Also, Leanne is Eva's sister and Michelle is Maria's sister-in-law, so it'll be like two tribes going to war when it kicks off. It'll be fun!

We know that Eva has a revenge plan in store for Aidan. What would you do if you were her?

Oh, I'd stick prawns in the curtain rail and everything, me – I'd cut one leg off all of his suit pants! Which to

Price on her head: Maria's guilt ahead of the big reveal led her to try to push Eva away be fair, probably isn't far from what Eva has in mind for him...

What would be the best way for Eva to get her own back on Maria?

Oh God, probably by cutting Maria's hair or something like that. She's already started on her in episodes we're filming – Eva says she has cankles in one scene, which I was really upset about! But Eva should probably just beat up Maria. I'd love to see an Eileen vs Gail-style scrap – though I don't fancy Maria's chances against a right hook from Eva!

Your life is so different from Maria's – you married your hubby Sylvain last August, and have two kids, Freya and Yves. Is it ever a struggle getting inside her head?

I'm 35 next month and I was 17 when I joined Corrie, so I've spent literally half my life being Maria. After all that time, it's not very difficult to get inside her head, or to leave her behind when I go home from the studio. I just get my jeans on and I'm Mum again!

Do you reckon you'll be sticking around for another two decades?

I don't know, because I don't like thinking that far ahead, but I'm going to be here for the foreseeable. I love Maria, even though she frustrates the life out of me – and I love the job, too!

Laura Heffernan

Man in the MIDDLE!

Actor and dad-of-one Shayne Ward couldn't be more different from Aidan...

Aidan is sure to be the most hated man in Weatherfield once the locals find out how he's treated lovely Eva. However, the future is looking far brighter for Shayne Ward, who plays the love rat – and the actor is chuffed to have crossed another item off of his soap to-do list...

"I remember meeting Ben Price [who played Nick Tilsley] when I first joined Corrie, and he told me, 'You need a fight scene and a love triangle'," chuckles Shayne, who made his cobbles debut in August 2015. "I've hit quite a few people, and now I'm involved in a major love triangle. So far, so good!"

"It's all heckling from the public, at least from afar," adds the star. "But when people get closer to me, they're always very polite and ask for an autograph."

The novelty of working on the Street has far from worn off for the X Factor 2005 winner, who feigns fear when we ask whether Aidan's wrongdoings could mean he packs his bags. However, there's a certain lady who would be even more disappointed than Shayne if he were run out of town...

"My mum is still my biggest fan," he grins. "But she's always telling me to smile more on telly. I have to explain that the story doesn't let me, and she says 'I know, but a smile brightens up the screen'. Bless her!"

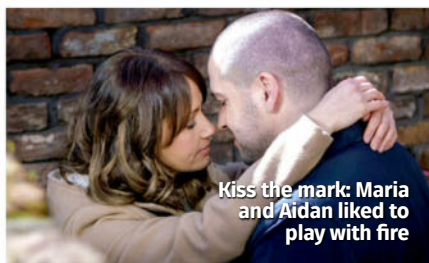

Shayne is lucky that he has so much to smile about away from the cameras. Unlike his womanising alter ego, he's a devoted family man with his girlfriend, ex-Hollyoaks star Sophie Austin, and their six-month-old girl, Willow – with proud Shayne even offering to show us photos of his beautiful daughter. But we're wondering how Sophie feels about her fella locking lips with two different women when he goes to work?

"She's fine with it – and she's an actress herself, so I'm used to her snogging people," Shayne tells us.

"Sophie also kills people, of course! [She played Chester's Lindsey Roscoe, aka the 'Gloved Hand Killer'] That was actually what lured me in! My mates used to ask, 'How could you do this story in front of your missus?'. Now they're all into it and want to know who Aidan will end up with – but I can't say..."

Kiss the mark: Maria and Aidan liked to play with fire

EVA springs her trap!

She puts her plan to ruin Aidan into action...

The net is closing in on Aidan this week, as cheated Eva seeks her revenge.

Oblivious Aidan is torn between his fiancée and his mistress, and things are even more complicated now Eva has revealed she's carrying his child. Added to that, Aidan has Adam blackmailing him for £5,000 over the saucy photo he has of him and Maria! Eva decides to make her fella sweat by taking Maria on a spa break – and beleaguered Aidan is horrified to learn from David that Maria plans to use the opportunity to come clean to Eva about the affair.

As Aidan rushes to the spa hotel hoping to prevent fireworks, has cunning Eva already set her trap?

Spa for the course: Eva is delighted to see Aidan!

Ready to Dingle: Things turned amorous between Charity and Frank

“I’m looking forward to my slanging matches with Charity!”

THE TRUTH ABOUT HER ALTER EGO'S BOYFRIEND IS CLOSE TO BEING REVEALED, BUT GAYNOR FAYE IS STILL ROOTING FOR MEGAN AND FRANK'S ROMANCE TO WORK OUT...

Raising a toast:
But will Charity give Megan that sinking feeling?

Never mind all the pretty young lads of Emmerdale, it's suave, smooth Frank Clayton who's the real catch in that village. He may have a dodgy past and a history of womanising, but Frank is so charming that he's irresistible. No wonder Megan has been on such a high lately, especially as Frank made a huge effort to convince her to give him a chance. The pair have developed a deep bond since getting together, and she sees a future with Frank. If only there wasn't that small issue of him bedding her arch-rival Charity – as Gaynor Faye, who plays the cheated party, explains...

"Megan is so smitten with Frank, and he chased her for so long that I think she'd be shocked to find out he'd cheated on her," shares the star. "Megan doesn't have flings – she has Eliza, and for her to have introduced somebody into her daughter's life is a big deal. She wouldn't be in this relationship if she didn't believe they had a future, and she does see one with Frank."

Megan had her eyes wide open when she agreed to get serious with Frank. But since he's been back in his daughters' lives, the former con man has tried to prove that he's a reformed character. Megan is proud to see that evolution, though she has no idea that conniving Charity managed to pull him back into his old ways. If Megan finds out what happened, she'll go nuclear – something that Gaynor tells us she's very much looking forward to.

"Oh, the slanging scenes with Emma Atkins [Charity] are such good fun – we absolutely have it!" laughs the actress. "We had it a few years ago with the whole Declan and Robbie thing, so it's great to be back doing it again. Some of the lines we get are just so fantastic. I'll often read the script and think, 'How do I go one better?'" – and then I'll turn the page and I have a classic line as well. The pair of them give as good as they get!

"Frank cheating with Charity is the worst possible scenario for Megan," adds Gaynor. "Charity is her nemesis – they're so alike, they're like butting rams. Actually, they're like a passionate couple! In a different world, Charity and Megan might be good friends, but they'd be the kind of mates that are close and then fall out spectacularly because they want the same thing."

Interestingly enough, this week sees Megan and Leyla join forces with Charity and Debbie on their classic car-hire venture. It's incredible to think that either Charity or Megan would want to knit their lives together in such a way – but Gaynor tells us they are both canny operators when it comes to cash.

"Well I think Leyla pushes it, though Megan can also see a good business plan and a good business opportunity – so she's not going to let somebody like Charity get in the way of that," says the star. "But also Debbie has a lot to do with it. Debbie's child is ill, and Megan can see that she really wants to make a go of this business. Megan does have morals – even though they don't come out very often – so I think it's largely to do with Debbie and Sarah."

Megan might be feeling charitable now, but she won't if the truth about Frank and Charity comes out. Given that Charity is planning to expose her former fling just to stir up trouble, it's likely that the terrible truth will soon be revealed to all. So what sort of revenge does Gaynor expect Megan to take?

"Megan's fury would probably be a slow burn, to be honest," warns the actress. "I think that initially she'd erupt, but she's been there before twice with Jai. She's not an innocent person herself, and she is quite good at getting people back. She got revenge on Declan quite a few times, and she's very bright. So I reckon she would very much think about it and probably get her revenge slowly – but she would get it!"

Kate White

The new MRS CLAYTON?

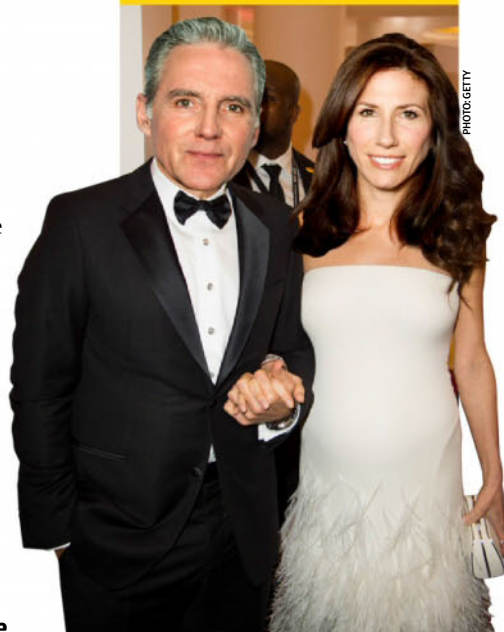

Frank could pop the question...

No matter what Charity has in mind, Frank seems pretty devoted to Megan – so a wedding could yet be on the cards. Would Megan say 'yes' if the former con artist asked for her hand in marriage?

"I know Megan would like a happy family unit for Eliza," muses Gaynor. "It would be the icing on the cake for her. Frank is her knight in shining armour, isn't he? He'd be there thinking he was George Clooney, while Megan would be going down the aisle like his wife Amal!"

We like the sound of that, and it's convenient that Megan is the owner of a wedding planning business. But would she want Leyla to organise it?

"Absolutely not," grins Gaynor. "Unicorns, fluffy clouds, everything in pink carriages? No. Megan would keep Leyla well away from her wedding."

The NIGHTMARE next door!

LORRAINE STANLEY LIFTS THE LID ON PLAYING WALFORD'S FIERCE NEW MATRIARCH – AND TELLS US THE TAYLORS AREN'T ALL BAD...

It's a baking hot Monday afternoon when Lorraine Stanley joins Inside Soap for a chat from the EastEnders set. "This heat is actually too much – unless I'm sat by a pool!" she chuckles, as we chat about the warm weather. "It's a shame that there isn't one on the Square – I might put that in the suggestion box!"

Well, if Inside Soap were to make a recommendation of our own, we'd tell Walford bosses to keep Lorraine at the heart of the drama for as long as they can. Love her or loathe her, Karen Taylor and her rowdy clan have given EastEnders a kick – and Lorraine couldn't be happier with their debut...

Karen has made quite an impact in her first few weeks! How do you feel now that you're on screen?

Really good! I'm very critical of myself, so sometimes I worry that I'm overplaying Karen or milking it a bit too much. But I've been pleased with most of it, and the reaction has been so positive.

We were shocked when Keegan turned out to be Karen's son! Are you relieved it's out now?

Yes, as I know what I'm like! We were at a press conference [prior to the Keegan reveal on screen] talking about the Taylors joining the show, and in my head I kept saying to myself, 'Don't say Keegan! Don't say Keegan!'. And then a journalist asked me how many kids Karen had, and inside I was screaming, 'Arghhhh!'. It feels good to relax now.

Was it hard keeping it a secret from your own family as well?

I accidentally told my mum – before finding out that we weren't allowed to tell anyone! I had to go back to her and tell her to keep quiet, and luckily she hadn't told anyone else.

I wanted to deck Stacey as well, but I weren't allowed!

Is Karen to blame for the way Keegan has turned out?

He's hard work, and I think Karen is tough on him because she's trying to be mum and dad at the same time. She won't think it's anything to do with her, but whether other people think that is a different matter! They love each other dearly, and you'll see in episodes to come that when Keegan is with his mum, he's a different person.

How did you react when you found out that one of your first scenes would involve punching Letitia Dean, who plays Sharon?

I screamed! I've watched Tish for years, ever since the show started, so I couldn't believe it. I was praying she wouldn't hate me, but we were laughing the whole way through.

And Karen went head-to-head with Stacey, too!

I know! She come right in my face and I said to the writer, "I'm sure Karen would have decked her as well" – but I weren't allowed!

Slap and tickled: Lorraine loved getting in there with Tish Dean!

Beer boggles: Karen asks for a job, but doesn't get a good reaction from Mick and Shirl

What would you say to viewers who don't like Karen's fiery side?

I can imagine that Karen is your worst nightmare! She's a strong woman who won't take any crap, and is aggressive for her kids if she needs to be. But Karen also has a heart of gold, and when her vulnerability comes through, you really feel for her. She's the sort that would give you her last fiver.

It looks as if Karen will make more friends than enemies this week, after she strikes up a sweet friendship with Jane and wangles a cleaning job at Beales restaurant. It's just a shame tight-fisted Ian couldn't stretch to a waitressing role, as 41-year-old Lorraine has plenty of experience...

Rumour has it that you were waiting on royalty prior to EastEnders!

Oh God, yeah, I was waitressing right up until I found out I'd won the role. I'm freelance, so I work for a lot of private chefs and we go to very well-to-do houses in Knightsbridge. I've served Prince Charles, politicians, all sorts.

How does Karen get on working with Ian, Steven and co?

Karen just stands there with her mop and bucket and chats and chats while Ian is trying to get on with his work – she's his worst nightmare! And she really doesn't like being told what to do, so she might not last long!

How do unlikely friends Karen and Jane come to meet?

Karen helps Jane in the Square, so Jane sees a side to her that others haven't. Karen offers her advice on how to claim money and things like that, cos obviously she is quite savvy about things like that! It's a funny scene, actually. Karen then invites herself round to the Beale house to watch the tennis, and Jane doesn't get much say in the matter!

You haven't been a mum for long in real life. How are you juggling parenthood with being on telly?

It's the perfect job for a mother as I'm not in work every day, and when I am, my daughter goes to nursery or is with her nan. I was at home with my little girl every day for 18 months, so it's nice to go out, buy nappies and get the bread in!

Our spies tell us that Karen has a few more shocks to come on screen with regards to her kids. What can you tell us?

You'll see coming up, and not just with a particular story, that Karen is trying her best and not getting anywhere. She's a single mum looking after all these children, and she's hit rock bottom. I know Keegan is a bit of a sod, but I think you'll see that all her children are actually good kids, and that's a testament to Karen. That's when we'll really get her vulnerable side – if I play it right!

Laura-Jayne Tyler

SON OF ANARCHY!

Zack Morris talks about being one of Walford's best-kept secrets...

Troublesome Keegan was a bit of a lone wolf – but now that an entire family has been cast around actor Zack Morris, Albert Square is beginning to feel a bit like home for him...

"My scenes had mainly been outside or at Walford High, so to have my own home is comforting in a way, like I'm at EastEnders for a while," he laughs. "And with Keegan's family around, you'll see what goes on behind closed doors. You may even feel sorry for him, or at least understand why he is the way he is."

Keegan and Karen clearly have a turbulent relationship, but stars Zack and Lorraine bonded instantly.

"It's hard to do scenes occasionally because we laugh a lot – and I blame Lou [Lorraine] 100 per cent," grins the actor. "She gets carried away and then everything is just hilarious. I've had scenes with her and Tish, and sometimes it's impossible!"

DRUNK in love!

SCOTT McGREGOR SPILLS THE BEANS ON MARK'S LATEST ROMANCE ON RAMSAY STREET...

NEIGHBOURS | Channel 5 MONDAY

We can't think of a better way to spend a sunny afternoon than wine tasting in the countryside with Hunky Mark

Brennan – so Elly is living our dream this week when she whisks him away from Ramsay Street for a few hours of fun at a local winery! And as we catch up with actor Scott McGregor, he tells us that he was over the moon after he found out where they would be shooting these scenes...

"We filmed in the Yarra Valley, which is one of the most beautiful spots in Victoria," grins the star. "All the cast and crew really enjoy shooting on location. It was such a picturesque setting, and it's the perfect opportunity for something to develop between Elly and Mark."

But Elly's not the only lucky lady on Mark's radar right now – as the week kicks off, he's hoping that he and ex-fiancée Paige can rekindle their relationship. But it seems the new mum is not as keen on the idea as Mark is.

"Mark went to Queensland to surprise Paige, who was up there visiting Brad and Lauren," explains Scott. "He instantly felt different when he was around Paige; he experienced emotions that he hadn't had in a long while. He got caught up in the moment and kissed Paige – but unfortunately, she was confused by it all and didn't think it was a good idea."

After Mark lays his heart on the line and tells Paige how he feels this week, he's left upset when she admits they're better off as just friends. However, things start looking up for the fella later in the week as Paige gives Elly two tickets to a wine-tasting afternoon – and Elly decides to invite Mark along as her plus-one.

"It's not really a date, they go as friends," says Scott. "But the more time they spend with each other, the more chemistry is developing between them."

"I actually think Elly could be a great match for Mark," he adds. "They both work in a position of authority and they both have responsibilities – whereas too much has already happened between Mark and Paige. I think they might have run their race in terms of a future together."

While Scott is sceptical about a future between Mark and Paige, he is enjoying filming scenes with Paige's baby son Gabe ahead of the birth of his own child.

"I've done a couple of scenes where I've had the pram and bassinet, and I do find myself thinking, 'Would I go for this type of model or style?'" chuckles the star, whose fiancée Bianca Voigt is due to give birth to their first child later this year. "I've never thought like that before!"

Hollyoaks viewers finally get to meet the infamous Granny Campbell this week – but Courtney is far from impressed when her nosy nan arrives in the village three weeks earlier than expected! Luckily, star Amy Conachan is much more excited about her moving in...

Courtney has been talking about her Granny for so long. Are you happy that she has finally arrived in Hollyoaks?

I am! I love working with new people, so I was really excited to meet Jenny [Lee], who plays Granny Campbell. I was also very keen to see where the story would go because this is a new person that only Courtney knows, and she hasn't had many relatives around her up until now.

What is their relationship like?

There's a lot of love there, because Granny Campbell was the one who raised Courtney. But it's also a really volatile relationship because they're both big characters, so they jar a lot. Courtney likes to be independent, and she's been living her life here in Hollyoaks on her own for a while now. So to have Granny turn up out of the blue and try to mother her is not something Courtney takes very well!

Why has Courtney decided not to tell anyone else about her pregnancy?

I think she likes the idea that it's only her who knows about it – it gives her time to get used to the idea, and get it into her head about what's going to have to change and how it's going to affect her life.

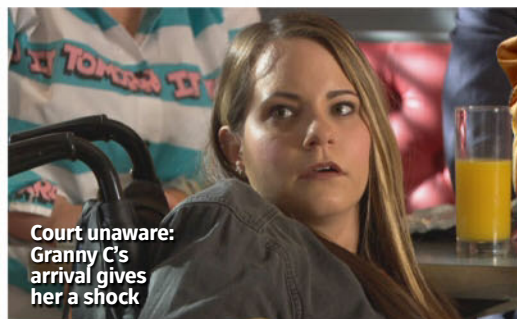

What was your initial reaction to Courtney being pregnant?

I was really chuffed that Hollyoaks has chosen to do this story, because I don't think it's anything we've really seen before. It's kind of a taboo that you don't really talk about, disabled people having babies. It's a really personal thing for me as well, and I think it's important to get it out there and make it more normal.

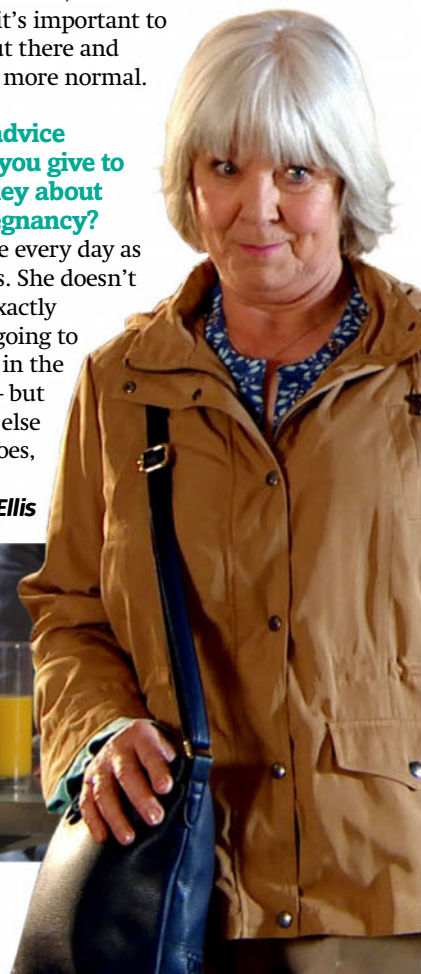

What advice would you give to Courtney about her pregnancy?

Just take every day as it comes. She doesn't know exactly what's going to happen in the future – but nobody else really does, either...

TILLY KEEPER

EastEnders’ Louise Mitchell

...faces your questions!

Poor Louise is having a tough time of it, but when Phil Mitchell is your on-screen dad, you’ve nothing to fear – so your questions proved easy-peasy for actress Tilly...

“What was it like growing up with older brothers?”

It was great being the youngest actually, because I was kind of treated like a princess – a bit like Louise! My brothers are a lot older than me, so luckily they were past picking on me while we were growing up.

“Who’s the most famous person that you’ve met so far?”

When I was 15 I met Will Smith at a Justin Bieber concert. It was really random! I only said hi, but he was really nice. I also recently met Mary Berry at the National TV Awards, and that meant a lot because I love baking! She told me my dress was pretty, and I think I managed to stutter, “Thank you” – then melted.

“Do you enjoy red carpet events, and who’s your style icon?”

“Do you remember the first time that you were recognised out and about?”

I remember being recognised in Bluewater [shopping centre], in a shoe shop. Someone asked me if I was Phil’s daughter, and I was with my own dad at the time. So I was like, “No, I’m his daughter...”! I’m always surprised when people recognise me – I’m still trying to get used to it.

“What or who inspired you to be an actor?”

I was always singing and dancing when I was a child, and my cousin’s wife runs a dance school which I attended from the age of three. But my dad is really outgoing, and while he didn’t push me to do it, he was so encouraging.

Growing up I loved the actresses Brittany Murphy and Billie Piper – I met Billie when I was 10, and I cried! She’s still one of my favourites.

“What social media site do you like to use the most?”

To be honest, I’m trying to ration my time using social media at the minute. But I do like Instagram – I’m very nosy and love to see what people are up to!

“What’s the best advice anyone has ever given you?”

Probably to treat others the way you want to be treated – my mum always says that to me. Or try to put yourself in someone else’s shoes to understand their point of view. Mums always know best – especially my mum!

On the Rox: Tilly would have loved playing her alter ego's dearly departed cousin

"If you could play another character in EastEnders, which one would you choose?"

I would have loved to play Ronnie or Roxy – they were strong Mitchell women, and I can't get enough of the Mitchell family. Or possibly Fatboy. I just really like Ricky Norwood, who played him, and he always seemed as though he had a lot of fun while on set.

"Would you consider yourself a dog person or a cat person?"

I'm a dog person, 100 per cent – I'm obsessed with them! I don't get cats. They know too much...

"What did you do to celebrate your most recent birthday?"

My last birthday was my 19th, and it was so boring! I was on set in the morning, and the only person who remembered was Shaheen [Jafargholi, who plays Shakil], so he bought me a raspberry-and-white-chocolate muffin.

But I have a birthday ritual with my family where my parents and I go up to London and have breakfast, then walk round the department stores.

"Do you enjoy attending red carpet events, and who's your style icon?"

I enjoy getting dressed up, but the red carpet bit can be quite nerve-wracking – it's all very busy. For the British Soap Awards this year, Jasmine Armfield [Bex] and

Arm in Armfield: Jasmine is one of star Tilly's closest pals at EastEnders

Selfie shtick: The gang gathered round during Children In Need – and Tilly posted the result on Instagram

"What social media site do you like to use the most?"

I got ready in my room, putting on fake tan and sorting out each other's hair and make-up. I could go on for ages about my many style icons – but Kate Moss, Fearne Cotton and Sienna Miller are definitely my top three!

"What's your favourite part of the EastEnders set to film in?"

It was Louise's bedroom. It has blue walls, which I was miffed about, because Bex's bedroom has pink walls, and Louise should have pink walls [laughs]! I tried to sneak in a poster of Harry Styles, but it wasn't allowed.

"Do you miss being at school, and what was your favourite subject?"

I don't – I couldn't wait to leave! But my favourite subject was either English Literature or Drama. I had a great English teacher – shout-out to Miss Winters! I also really enjoyed French when I did it at GCSE, but I hated it at A-level.

"Do you mind having to wear school uniform on screen?"

Well, I didn't have a tie as part of my school uniform in real life, so on my first day as Louise, I had major anxiety about tying Louise's school tie. I was really panicky – I thought they were going to have to put it on an elastic band! But I'm a pro at it now...

"What was the last programme you recorded on television?"

...asks reader Tracy Wilson, via email

Love Island. It's a guilty pleasure. I'm one of those people who says they don't watch reality TV, but Love Island hits the screen and I'm sold. I couldn't put myself through it, though!

Sweet dreams for living life to the full

When Wendy Steele discovered New Nordic Melissa Dream™, she finally found her perfect revitalisation recipe.

WHY I KNEW THAT I DESPERATELY NEEDED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP.

Problems had been accumulating over time. Our son was due to leave for university, but before he was able to do that, he had to undergo a difficult and traumatic operation which required intensive home care by specialist nurses as well as regular travel to hospitals abroad as part of the treatment process. As if all that wasn't enough, I was trying to complete a PhD while doing a physically demanding shift-based job, plus our house had been up for sale for months. Burn out was looming.

Life for me had turned into a state of near-permanent panic as I obsessed about all the problems facing me. I couldn't sleep, I lost my appetite and I often suffered from migraines, brought on by stress, poor eating and the lack of proper sleep.

After reading about Melissa Dream™ supplements in a magazine, I decided to give them a try and ordered a supply online. After only two days of taking the tablets, I noticed that I felt calmer and more positive because I was sleeping properly. I was relaxed in a way that was totally different to how I had been for ages.

I've been taking Melissa Dream™ for a month now and because I'm getting a good night's sleep, I'm so revitalised and full of energy that I know I can deal with anything life may throw at me.

New Nordic Melissa Dream™ - not your run of the mill sleep solution.

Melissa Dream™ supplements contain a unique combination of natural bioactive micronutrients and herbal extracts which can help nourish and regulate your nervous system. They include lemon balm extract, L-theanine amino acid, chamomile extract, vitamin B complex and magnesium. They are available in packs of 20, 40 and 100 tablets – simply take two tablets 1 hour before bedtime.

My husband, family and friends have all noticed the difference – I'm back to my normal self and it feels great! I used to be a member of the GB athletics team and have rediscovered my love of running, cross country skiing and regular gym sessions.

You can find Melissa Dream™ in Holland & Barrett and Leading Independent Health Stores. For an information leaflet call 0800 389 1255 or purchase online at www.newnordic.co.uk

TONY HUTCHINSON HAS BEEN THE HEART AND SOUL OF HOLLYOAKS FROM THE VERY BEGINNING – AND InsideSoap HAS BEEN THERE ALONGSIDE HIS EXPANDING CLAN EVERY STEP OF THE WAY...

Inside Soap was just three years old when Hollyoaks started – so we were probably far too young to be watching such a sexy, saucy show! Back then, it focused mostly on the teenage characters and the traumas they were going through. In fact, people above the age of 20 barely ever got any time on screen...

Fast-forward 22 years, and it's an entirely different story. Hollyoaks is all grown up – and while it's still seen as the cheeky younger sibling of the longer-running soaps, there's no denying that it's earned its place in the soap hall of fame. Of course, you can still tune in and see characters in silly situations wearing daft costumes. But at the beating heart of the show now lies its core family groups – and with Tony the only character who's been there since day one, it seemed fitting that our birthday shoot should centre on him and his eclectic clan.

So as we join Nick Pickard (Tony), Alex Fletcher (Diane), Kieron Richardson (Ste) and Parry Glasspool (Harry) on the set of the flat where their characters live, it really is like stepping into a genuine family home...

"Our little group is particularly good at the minute," grins Alex. "Maybe it's because we've expanded and now have Scott and Lily as well, but I do feel that Diane has a real place in the village as head of the family. All we need now is a grumpy old grandad Hutchinson!"

Frankly, we don't think they could fit anyone else in that tiny flat! And from the gossip we hear on our shoot, the first family of Hollyoaks has more than enough drama going on already...

Nick Pickard

“You’d be shocked at what goes on here!”

Think of Hollyoaks, and the first character that springs to mind is usually Tony Hutchinson. After all, he’s been in the show since day one – and 22 years later, he’s still in the thick of the action. Actor Nick is just as integral to the soap as his character is, and Inside Soap is proud to have been right there with him over the past two decades. So as we sit down to probe him about life on the hippest soap around, we’re hoping he’ll be happy to share a few of his deepest, darkest secrets with us...

We recall the first time we met you, Nick, at the press launch for Hollyoaks back in 1995! How did you feel about winning a part in a new soap?

It wasn’t even called Hollyoaks back then, it was just ‘Teen Soap’! [Hollyoaks creator] Phil Redmond was really hot at the time because of the work he’d done on Brookside, so I do remember that everyone wanted a part in his new show. There was a massive campaign to find actors, and thousands of people came to Liverpool for auditions. I was over the moon when I was cast as Tony.

How do the early years compare to the show now?

It’s like chalk and cheese! None of these sets were even built back when we started – we used to go out and shoot in Chester. It was only on once a week for the first year, so it’s taken a long time to get to where we are now. It’s a massive machine nowadays, and we have about 300 people working on the show.

Did you imagine that you’d stay with Hollyoaks for 22 years?

Never! It’s like a football team, you get a new boss in and suddenly you worry that you’re going to be the first one out the door! But I’ve been lucky to stay – I’ve seen it all. You’d be shocked at what goes on here...

We imagine the early days were all crazy parties! Was it that wild?

It was nuts back at the beginning! We were 19 and 20-year-olds getting a steady wage for the first time, and you know what it’s like at that age – you throw your money away and enjoy it. It was such a laugh. I used to live with four other lads from the show, so even if you were tired when you got home, there was always someone who’d say, “Come on, we’re going out!” Whereas now I just go home – I’m 42, I can’t be doing that every night like I used to.

As the sole original cast member left, you are often considered the daddy of Hollyoaks. Is that how you feel?

No, I don’t feel like that at all! I try to be a good role model, so while I have a laugh, I’m also professional. I know that if we don’t get the work done for the day, it’s going to roll on to another day – and then you’ll have to come in on your day off! So I try to drum that into people, and guide the younger ones – particularly people like Parry and Lauren [McQueen, aka Lily], as they are my screen family.

The Hutchinsons are at the heart of the show right now. Do you guys feel like a family unit off screen as well as on?

Yeah, we do. It’s nice when you have so many characters in one place, because you get to play around with things a lot more. I’ve been good mates with Kieron and Alex for a long time, so it’s lovely to work with them.

What does Tony’s future hold?

I know that over the next year and a half, there are a lot of big things going on. And there are a few former cast members coming back, so I imagine I’ll be involved with them. But I’ve never been one to go upstairs and find out what my next storyline is – I’m just really lucky that they keep giving me great stuff to do!

25

Parry Glasspool

Kieron Richardson

Not many dads would be pleased to see their teenage son shacking up with a twice-married drug addict with two kids! But although Tony wasn't happy about Harry and Ste's romance at the start, he's finally accepted that the couple are an integral part of his family unit. And stars Kieron and Parry are both delighted to be in Tony's squad...

What's it like being a part of the Hutchinson clan?

Kieron I couldn't ask for a better family. I think modern is how you would describe it – we've got about a hundred kids between us all!

Parry It's a mixed bunch. The crew say that when they work with us, they know they're in safe hands. We're the best Hollyoaks family – we've got all the pros!

Kieron When you think about iconic clans in the show, you automatically think of the McQueens. But don't underestimate the Hutchinsons...

Parry The McQueens are the exterior of the show, they're the glitz and glamour. But we're the heart – we're what Hollyoaks is really about.

Do you all feel like a family off screen as well as on?

Kieron

Yeah, we do. Even today when I walked in for this shoot, Alex was like, "That scene you did in last night's episode was really good". We're supportive of each other, which is what a real family would be.

Who's the grumpiest among you?

Parry Nick does get grumpy – but Kieron has diva fits.

Kieron What's a diva fit, Parry? Go on, explain yourself!

Parry Well, for example, when I say to you, "Why don't you try doing the scene like this..."

Kieron Yeah, Parry sometimes tries to tell me how to act! And I'm like, "Don't you dare do that!"

Parry And Nick gets grumpy when I laugh at him – sometimes we'll be doing a scene and his face cracks me up! It can be in the middle of a serious scene and I'll just start giggling to myself, and Nick gets furious.

Ste and Tony have been mates for a long time. Kieron, what was your reaction when you found out you'd be working with Nick?

Kieron Everyone knows who Tony is and I grew up watching him, so I felt this massive pressure to be really good and know all my lines! Nick's a legend, so I wanted to be well-behaved and not mess up any of his scenes. I never thought in a million years that we'd be where we are now, with Tony and Ste as best friends.

What's the biggest thing you've learned from working with Nick?

Kieron Don't mess about. He's very serious about what he does, even though he's a bit of a joker when he's not working. Because he's been here for so long, it feels like Nick owns the building, so what he says, goes. You have to bring your A-game when you work with him. Parry Nick calls the shots, doesn't he? But you know what, I've never seen him phone-in his performance. You'd think after 22 years he might want to give himself a little break, but he puts his heart and soul into it every time.

Hollyoaks is infamous for putting actors in silly costumes! Has there been anything you've baulked at?

Kieron Because we're quite a 'top off' show, I feel massive pressure to look good – especially working with Parry, because he's got slabs and abs and everything! Some mornings you come in and don't want to take your top off.

Parry It's always on the wrong day – like if you've had a weekend where you've been eating rubbish, then you come in first thing on Monday and you have to get naked. It's a hard life!

Kieron, what's surprised you most about fatherhood in real life?

Kieron Just that the kids get more attention on the street now than I do.

When you're out pushing the pram, people stop you and go, "Oh my God, it's twins!", whereas before it was, "Oh my God, it's Ste!". But I'm fine with it. I do have the cutest kids ever!

Would you like to see Harry and Ste marry and live happily ever after?

Parry I think if they were too happy, we wouldn't have a job any more...

Kieron Ste's been married twice, so I don't think he's up for another wedding. His kids have had so many new daddies.

Parry Harry would like one – but he's only 19, so I don't know what goes on in his head. If it was me, Ste would have been out on his ear a long time ago!

"Some mornings you come in and don't want to take your top off!"

“I’m so proud of my Hollyoaks family – I don’t ever want to leave them!”

Diane arrived in Hollyoaks village back in 2010, but Alex was no stranger to soap when she rocked up. Having already spent 13 years as Brookside’s Jacqui Dixon, she knows just what it’s like to grow up in soapland...

It’s been wonderful watching you all interacting as a family today!

We genuinely have a special relationship and connection, because to work together so closely, you have to. And you’ve got to laugh, especially with quite tough storylines at the moment. I’m spoiled with the people I work with.

Do you feel maternal towards Ross Adams, who plays Scott, and Lauren McQueen, aka Lily?

I do, especially Lauren. She’s from the same area of Liverpool that I’m from, and we went to the same convent school. She’s from good stock, that one! She’s just a really well-rounded young lady, and I’m looking forward to the stuff that we’ve got coming up together. I’m very proud of her.

Have you known Nick for ages?

He actually knew my family before he knew me, because my uncle cuts his hair! And I kind of knew him because Hollyoaks and Brookie were both filmed in Liverpool. I remember when the Hollyoaks lot started, us at Brookside were all dead jealous because they were so gorgeous! But Nick’s such a good person and brilliant at his job – don’t tell him I said that, though!

You were only 12 when you were cast in Brookside. Can you still remember your first day on set?

Yeah. I was nervous, but excited – and dead proud because it was a Liverpool soap. I’m still proud now. My nan brought me to set for the first time, and tried to post a letter in the letter box – and everyone went, “No, it’s not real!”

What was it like for you growing up on television?

It was pressured, and exam time was quite difficult. But the Brookie lot were dead supportive. When I got to 16 I had to decide: do I take another contract on Brookie, or do I leave to do my A-levels? I had a meeting with our producer at the time, Mal Young, and he said, “So are you going back to school, or are you staying here?”. And I was like, “I’ll stay here please!” I’ve genuinely never looked back.

When Brookside finished, did you ever imagine that you would go on to be a part of Hollyoaks?

I never did, though I always hoped I’d get back that feeling of having a secure job. I used to feel guilty as I’ve never been on stage, and I thought I wasn’t a proper actress. I’d not earned my stripes. It’s only as I’ve got older that I’ve thought, ‘Actually, I have’.

Your son Hanson is only 12 months old. How have you found juggling motherhood and work?

After I had my daughter Yas in 2005, I was offered a contract on The Bill, which I turned down. I was a new mum, and wasn’t ready for that. So when I had Hanson, I wanted to get back on the horse as soon as possible. It’s been lovely to have that balance of being a mum and having a job.

Do you see yourself staying at Hollyoaks for a long time?

I feel I’d be letting my screen family down if I was to go! I’m not going anywhere, as this is just the start of things for Lauren and Ross. And from a storyline point of view, there’s still so much for Diane to do.

Mr C 2002

Gordon Cunningham, aka Mr C, is one of the best-remembered characters from the show's early days. A dad to more than just his own kids, Mr C was so popular that even after he was killed off in a car crash, he came back as a ghost to help troubled Bombhead.

Thanks for the MEMORIES!

WE OPEN THE Inside Soap ARCHIVES AND REMEMBER SOME OF OUR FAVOURITE PHOTO SHOTS...

Ali Bastian & Chris Fountain

Becca Dean & Justin Burton 2006

A classic Hollyoaks plot of the 2000s – and certainly one that put the show on the map with the wider viewership – was the tragic love story between teacher Becca and brooding student Justin. A real lesson in how to do a sizzling storyline.

Ellis Hollins & Matt Littler Tom & Max Cunningham 2006

Aw – just look at how little Ellis is! These days Tom is a strapping lad at the heart of some of Hollyoaks' biggest storylines, but back then he was the orphaned boy whom the village residents took to their hearts. While Tom may be all cuddles here with brother Max, he learned not to get too attached to his guardians – Max died on his wedding day in 2008, and Tom's sister-in-law Steph perished three years later.

The first generation 1995

Inside Soap was a big supporter of Hollyoaks from day one, so we were the first mag to take the original cast out and about – this time for a fun photo shoot at a bowling alley! We sallied down the alley with Lisa Williamson (Dawn Cunningham), Will Mellor (Jambo Bolton), Brett O'Brien (Louise Taylor) and, of course, someone who would become a life-long mate of Inside Soap – lovely Nick Pickard!

Gemma Atkinson & Alex Carter Lisa & Lee Hunter 2002

Before they played brother and sister Carly and Jamie Hope in Emmerdale, Gemma and Alex played, erm, brother and sister in Hollyoaks! We took the fun pair to Disneyland Paris, where they met a new hunk who was cuter than the average Hollyoaks lad...

5th birthday party! 2000

Inside Soap celebrated Hollyoaks hitting its half-decade with a yummy cake and a lot of chat with the hottest actors of the time. Marcus Patric – who'd won his role as fireman Ben Davies after attending an open audition – was joined by Joanne Taylor (Geri Hudson), James Redmond (Finn), Lisa Kay (Anna Green) and good old Nick Pickard, who's eaten more Hollyoaks birthday cakes than chef Tony has made hot dinners!

EPP 200 12

Guy Burnet & James Sutton Craig Dean & John Paul McQueen 2007

This on-screen romance inspired legions of fans to campaign for an ending that would see the pair head off into the sunset together. Producers gave them their wish, but James' solo return to the show in 2012 meant the dream was over – or so we thought...

Christmas crackers

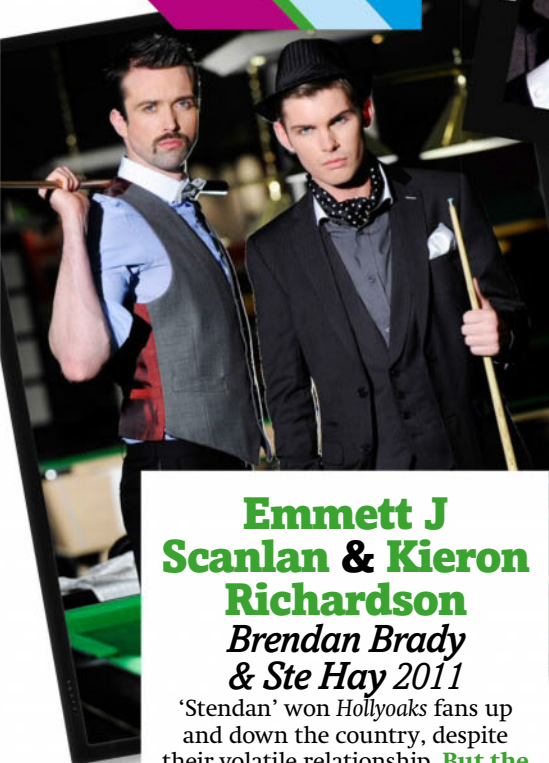

2008 & 2016

Inside Soap can always persuade the Hollyoaks gang to do something fun when the festive season arrives, and these are two of our favourites. Lysette Anthony (Marnie) made a stunning Snow Queen, while Nathalie Emmanuel (then Sasha Valentine, now best known for Game Of Thrones), Carley Stenson (Steph Roach) and Steph Waring (Cindy) were very much in step as our high-kicking reindeer.

Emmett J Scanlan & Kieron Richardson Brendan Brady & Ste Hay 2011

'Stendan' won Hollyoaks fans up and down the country, despite their volatile relationship. But the lads played it cool when they joined us for a photo shoot.

Stephanie Davis & Jonny Clarke Sinead

O'Connor & Bart McQueen 2012

This real-life couple joined us for a Valentine's ride – but there were bumpy times ahead. Not only did the pair split, but Steph was let go from the show in 2015 and Jonny was killed off earlier this year.

Jennifer Metcalfe

Mercedes McQueen 2009

Jen arrived in Hollyoaks with a bang back in 2006 – starting the way Mercedes meant to go on! There's an old saying that some people could look nice wearing just a pair of curtains, and gorgeous Jen certainly proved that she's one of them!

Danny Mac Dodger Savage, 2011, 2013 & 2014

Danny is one of our faves.

He scooped the Sexiest Male gong at the Inside Soap Awards more than anyone in history, so he's clearly gorgeous. But he's also one of the nicest fellas we've worked with – and one of the few stars honest enough to admit that he gets a real kick from being named soap's most desirable man, rather than feigning embarrassed modesty!

"We were only kids back then!"

Pre-Hollyoaks, Alex Fletcher spent 12 years in Brookside as Jacqui Dixon, and often featured in Inside Soap...

"Just the other day, Tiffany Chapman [Rachel Jordache

"I do miss Brookside," continues Alex. "It was a massive part of my life..."

Happy birthday, Brookie! 1992

An early issue of Inside Soap featured some familiar faces on the cover, as Paul Usher (Barry Grant), Dean Sullivan (Jimmy Corkhill), Brian Regan (Terry Sullivan), Gladys Ambrose (Julia Brogan) and Nicola Stephenson (Margaret Clemence) celebrated 10 years of the Scouse soap. It would run for another 11 years, bowing out at the age of 21 in 2003.

Claire Sweeney & Sam Kane

Lindsey & Peter Phelan 1999

Brookie – and a little stint on Celebrity Big Brother in 2001 – made a star out of Claire. Lindsey, however, had a rockier life during her time in the Close, with divorces, a flirtation with lesbianism and a period as a gun-toting gangster just a few of the highlights. Here she is in a quieter time, marrying hairdresser Peter Phelan. An affair with Barry Grant – whom she wed at the end of the show's run – saw the marriage break down.

Michael Starke

Thomas 'Sinbad' Sweeney 1999

Everyone loved Sinbad, the Close's jolly window cleaner – and off screen everyone loves Michael, too. So Inside Soap was delighted to have some time with the jovial actor, as he transformed himself into 'Super Sinbad!' for the benefit of our cameras!

Steven Pinder & Karen Drury

Max & Susannah Farnham 1997

Throughout the 90s, Inside Soap couldn't get enough of the relationship disaster area that was Max. He spent much of the decade with Susannah, but when Brookside ended in 2003, Jacqui Dixon was his third wife.

JENNIFER METCALFE

by Steven Murphy, Editor

The Inside Soap Awards are normally a noisy night, especially when people are arriving on the red carpet, the photographers all shouting, vying for the stars' attention so they can get a shot with them looking straight at the camera. But never have I heard a bigger reaction than in 2015 when Jennifer Metcalfe (Mercy) – the winner of the Sexiest Female gong – arrived. The reason? Well, Jen takes her job very seriously, so if she was to be Sexiest Female, then she was going to be Sexiest Female. The red rubber dress made the front pages of the papers the next day!

GUY BURNET & JAMES SUTTON

By Peter Griffiths,

Production Editor & Chief Sub

I first met Guy and James at the Inside Soap Awards 2007, and they were both delightful. 'McDean' mania was already in full swing – their fans were obsessed with the pair – and the boys were mobbed by Inside Soap staff, Awards guests and other celebs for photos. Guy has mentioned in interviews that he never felt truly comfortable with the development of his character's sexuality, yet he fully committed to the role on screen – and he was gracious and generous to everyone queueing up for a selfie and a chat about Craig and John Paul that night. What a great Guy.

by Laura-Jayne Tyler, News Editor

Usually we're waiting for the stars while they get dolled up for our glamorous photo shoots. But on a chilly December day one Christmas, it was Roscoe actors Charlie Clapham (Freddie), Sophie Austin (Lindsey) and Ayden Callaghan (Joe) twiddling their thumbs, while three of their co-stars threw a diva strop! And when we say co-stars, we mean the reindeer that we'd hired to pose alongside them. The animals were ready when they were ready, and kicked up a stink if they weren't comfortable with a particular shot. They weren't much fond of the smoke machine, either. Thankfully, our stars were all pros – and we promise that no reindeer were harmed in the making of this picture.

THE McQUEENS

By Sarah Ellis,

Deputy Features Editor

The McQueens have always been my favourite family in Hollyoaks, so I was excited when I got invited on a behind-the-scenes shoot for the storyline where Myra's long-lost son, Niall, tried to blow up the entire family in a church! It was really interesting to be on location with all the cast and crew, and it was great to get to watch some of the scenes being filmed for those nail-biting episodes. At lunchtime everyone headed over to the catering bus, and Claire Cooper (Jacqui) invited me to sit at a table with the McQueen girls.

Later, during a break in filming, we all sat down by the lake together sunbathing and gossiping, and I really did feel like an honorary McQueen for the day – just with less leopard print...

GARY LUCY by Allison Jones, Features Editor

I've interviewed Gary Lucy several times, not just when he was in Hollyoaks as Luke Morgan, but also during Footballers Wives, The Bill, EastEnders and the Full Monty theatre tour. However, the most memorable of our chats was an early Hollyoaks one, shortly after he won the British Soap Award for Best Newcomer in 2000.

It was following the groundbreaking male rape plot, but I still remember how modest Gary was, insisting it was a reward for the hard work of the Hollyoaks team. And I can confirm that he's remained just as grounded ever since.

DAMON WAYANS AND CLAYNE CRAWFORD FILL US IN ON THE LETHAL WEAPON FINALE...

Turning movies into TV shows has been a bit of a trend in the States of late, and while some of them have struggled to make an impact, we've been very pleasantly surprised by the adaptation of Lethal Weapon.

Not only has it delivered a small-screen action movie experience week in, week out, but it's also put a lot of warmth and heart into the process.

One thing that has helped the show to break through is the easy chemistry between leading actors Clayne Crawford and Damon Wayans, who play detectives Riggs and Murtaugh. Inside TV was lucky enough to snag an interview with the stars during their recent visit to the UK, and we're happy to confirm that they're just as full of jokes and banter off screen...

"We're lucky – we just get each other," grins Clayne. "The same things made us giggle, and we'd get to laughing where we had tears running down our faces, like genuine, 'I can't do anything, just for a minute' kind of laughter, then we knew that was it. That is chemistry, that is friendship, that's, 'Hey, let's exchange numbers, we should hang out sometime'."

"I came on to the show first," recalls Damon, "and I did some readings with other actors who were trying to do, to some degree, an impression of Mel Gibson. And then, at the last minute, they told me about this guy and we had a meeting and I was like, 'He's a great actor'. We just kind of hit it off and went to a basketball game, and the rest is season one!"

One of the big ongoing plots of the first season has been Riggs trying to come to terms with the death of his wife Miranda back in the pilot. This week's finale brings that story full circle as Riggs thinks he's found the man responsible for what happened to his wife – and Murtaugh is worried about what his partner might do.

"What's really exciting is that the last three episodes are all tied together," Clayne tells us. "Each episode of the show can stand alone, but the last three all really play together and it's a nice build – and the unravelling is really exciting to watch."

The show hasn't scrimped on the stunts – but how much of what we see of those stunt sequences actually involves Clayne and Damon?

"We have the opportunity to do as much as we want," reveals Damon. "Clayne chooses to do all he can. I have a limit, which is if I think I'm going to get hurt, I'm not going to do it. I'm too old for that!"

ACTION STATIONS!

WHY KEESHA SHARP AND JORDANA BREWSTER ARE HOPING FOR A LITTLE MORE ACTION...

During the Lethal Weapon cast visit, we also caught up with Keesha Sharp, who plays Trish Murtaugh, and Jordana Brewster, who plays Dr Maureen Cahill, and we asked which stories they have enjoyed filming.

"At the beginning I was more of a hostage negotiator as well as a therapist," recalls Jordana. "So I liked it when I got a little more involved and I got to interrogate the suspects, as I've watched so many episodes of Law & Order that I feel as

Decline And Fall

I really love documentaries, particularly historical ones. And I watch a lot of series – I thought Decline And Fall was divine. It took me back to some of the shows I did way back when – it's such a wondrously sophisticated piece.

I'm a TV fanatic – I'm a news addict for a start, so it would be a punishment if I didn't see the news. And I'm told off constantly because I watch The Jeremy Kyle Show. But I think all politicians should watch Jeremy Kyle, they need to be more in touch!

My wife is a crime writer, so we watch all of those shows. We watched No Offence and Line Of Duty – that was good, wasn't it? I even liked Broadchurch more this time around. I thought the third series was much better.

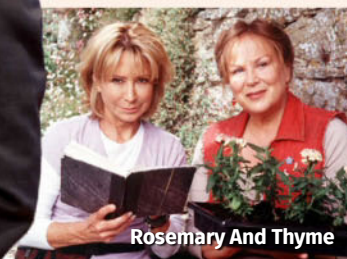

The Jeremy Kyle Show

I watch a lot of sport, but I'm a bit of a snob – I'll only watch the cream of the sport! I was very devoted to watching Channel 4 Racing. And I was on television with Eamonn Holmes recently and I said to him, "You do realise I'm a Manchester City supporter making a warm gesture to a United supporter?". There was a United Nations moment there, like a peace treaty being signed!

I find that I have certain types of day when I watch certain things – I'll watch silly things during the day, if I'm here. I will watch a Rosemary And Thyme in the afternoon, but I couldn't watch it at night. And I definitely couldn't watch Jeremy Kyle at night!

ACKLEY BRIDGE | Channel 4 WEDNESDAY

THERE'S BEEN A WATERLOO ROAD-SHAPED HOLE in our lives since the comprehensive closed its doors two years ago, but this Channel 4 school drama – that comes with a few nods to the likes of Educating Yorkshire as well – is looking like a fine replacement. It possesses all the key components – dedicated teachers with complicated personal lives, troubled kids with hearts of gold, and plenty of fights in the corridors. It's brilliant to see Amy-Leigh Hickman, who was great in her brief role as EastEnders' Star, getting a chance to shine here as conflicted teen Nasreen, too...

though I know what I'm doing!"

Although it's an action show, Trish and Maureen have mostly been kept away from the major dangers – but Jordana and Keesha are hoping they can kick some ass in season two.

"We keep pitching for us to do our action piece!" chuckles Keesha. "We get 'action envy', and I don't know how they're going to work it in, but we want them to. We've been coming up with ideas – today alone we came up with 10!"

CROWNING GLORY

LOUISE FORD TELLS US WHY KATE IS EXPANDING HER HORIZONS AS THE SPOOF ROYAL SOAP RETURNS...

While everyone else was getting excited about The Crown last year, our favourite TV interpretation of the Royal Family was definitely The Windsors. It placed the clan in the middle of a Dynasty-style glossy soap opera – and cast Camilla as the scheming matriarch, Pippa Middleton as a scene-stealing vamp, and Wills and Kate as the wholesome new generation trying to honour their heritage while simultaneously bringing the family into the modern era.

We're pleased to report that series two, which arrives this week, looks every bit as ludicrous as series one, in the best possible sense. We chatted with Louise Ford, who plays Kate, to find out what right-royal dramas lie ahead for the family this time...

Where do we find Wills and Kate at the start of this series?

Well, they're very much enjoying domestic bliss. Wills has resolved to be a hands-on dad and prove himself to be a man of the people, which obviously has some great consequences – one of which was watching Hugh [Skinner, who plays him] being pelted by sausage rolls and sandwiches by children under the age of five! And this time Kate is more... well, the power has gone to her head slightly.

Oh no! So how does that manifest itself?

It's such a funny idea of the Royal Family – if you take all of the honorary accolades and titles they give you and you don't take them with a pinch of salt, what happens? What happens when someone tells Kate she could make a really great DJ? And they let her be president of Wimbledon and hand over the trophy, and Pippa's completely seething at her about it and says, "Why should you be the president of Wimbledon?" – and Kate's answer is, "Well, because I really like tennis".

Kathryn Drysdale is joining the cast for this series as Harry's girlfriend Meghan Markle – that must have been a fun development for you all...

The whole Meghan Markle thing is one of my favourite parts of series two. She relates

Stop Meghan a scene: Miss Markle soon gets Pippa's back up everything to her character in Suits. Someone might be talking about the environment, and she'll go, "That's a bit like my character in Suits", which really makes me laugh because the more it happens, the funnier it gets! It's great to have new people on, and I think whenever you bring a 'commoner' into the Royal

PHOTOS: GETTY, RSC/SHUTTERSTOCK

Family, you've obviously got a great thing to spoof there. There's another nice moment where she thinks Camilla is the Queen, and tells her she looks really good for 90...

The cast is full of really funny people – who's most prone to laughing on set?

Oh, I corpsed so badly that I kind of had a hysterical crying fit. It was during the filming of the first episode with Harry [Enfield, who plays Charles], when he was talking to the Chinese ambassador, and I just couldn't cope – I think I had to be cut out of the shot a bit as I couldn't hide the fact that I was still laughing! It's embarrassing, but that feeling of corpsing is one of my favourites – it's actually really enjoyable!

FEARLESS | ITV MONDAY

KEEPING FAITH

WITH KEVIN IN COURT, REBECCA CALLARD TELLS US WHY ANNIE IS CONVINCED HE'S NOT GUILTY...

It's not just the persistence of determined human rights lawyer Emma Banville that's impressed us in ITV's Fearless. It's also the determination of Annie Peterson, the ex-fiancée of Kevin Russell, who remains convinced that he's not a murderer and has been fighting to get him acquitted. And while Kevin suffers a setback in court this week, Rebecca Callard, who plays Annie, doesn't think it will shake her character's faith.

"I don't think there's ever been a moment where she thought, 'Did he do it?' – ever," the star tells us. "I think she has a lot of guilt. If she feels like she's having a great time, there's this thought in the back of her mind that Kevin is incarcerated, that he's missing out on this, and he's innocent."

Rebecca was really keen to play the role of Annie as soon as she saw the script because "this was something I would watch", and informs us she found it quite easy to get into Annie's head thanks to one of her co-stars.

"I think Sam Swainsbury [who plays Kevin] is absolutely incredible in this," she reveals. "I can't even look at him without wanting to burst into tears!"

While Fearless has made us suspicious of many of its characters, Rebecca doesn't think there's any hidden agenda with Annie.

"With Annie, what you see is what you get," she shares. "I remember the costume designer saying, 'She's such a goodie,

I want her look to be so pure', so

I do wear a lot of pink – which

I don't in real life, because of being small and that kind of What Ever Happened To Baby Jane? thing that I'm desperately trying to avoid!"

DOCTOR WHO | BBC1 6.30PM

"I will fix this," vows the Doctor in tonight's episode, which is exactly the sort of thing we'd expect him to say. But when 'this' is a situation that involves two Masters for the price of one – as well as Bill having been converted into a Cyberman – it's easier said than done.

We don't want to give too much away about tonight's hour-long series finale, as all the best bits are more fun when they're a surprise, but we definitely recommend tuning in for a guest appearance from the brilliant Samantha Spiro (recently seen playing Barbara Windsor in Babs) and possibly the best work of the whole series from Peter Capaldi and Pearl Mackie in the scene where Bill realises what's happened to her.

Oh, and expect a heck of a cliffhanger ending to tease us for the Christmas special...

Two become one

THE AUTISTIC GARDENER | Channel 4 7PM

For the final episode of the series, Alan Gardner attempts something that he's never tried before: making over two gardens as part of the same project. The idea is for two households in London, who have adjoining small back gardens, to turn them into one larger shared space – but they have different budgets and some very different ideas of what they want to do. Alan needs to look quite far afield for inspiration – as far away as Texas, in fact.

POLDARK | BBC1 9PM

Another Poldark enters the world this week as Demelza goes into labour, and Ross reaches out to his Aunt Agatha by inviting her to baby Clowance's christening party. But when she doesn't turn up, Ross takes advantage of George and Elizabeth's absence to ride over to Trenwith and find out why.

He soon discovers the dire conditions that his aunt is being kept under, but Aunt Agatha declines his invitation to move to Nampara – she was born at Trenwith and fully intends to die there. Can Ross do anything to make her life any easier?

Meanwhile, love's young dream (Drake and Morwenna) continue to make gooey eyes at each other, so Demelza decides it's time that she had a quiet word with Morwenna about how inadvisable it would be to pursue a relationship with him.

DUNKIRK: THE NEW EVIDENCE | Channel 4 8PM

The rescue of a third of a million Allied troops who had been stranded at Dunkirk in May 1940 has been described as a miracle. But in the wake of the evacuation, there was anger towards the RAF – who some soldiers felt had left them at the mercy of the Luftwaffe. This documentary uses newly-released Ministry of Defence files to tell a different story: one where the RAF actually suffered heavy losses in holding off Luftwaffe bombers before they could reach Dunkirk.

EAMONN & RUTH DO DUBAI | Channel 5 9PM

Sun, sand and staggering wealth are on offer tonight as Eamonn Holmes and Ruth Langsford return for a third run of the series where they find out how the wealthy splash their cash.

It all begins in incredibly luxe style with a trip to the United Arab Emirates – flying first-class, naturally – and that segment of the show is certainly an eye-opener for those of us who've never been out of economy. Upon their arrival, they're keen to find out if it's true that anything can be made to happen for the right price – such as a grand piano being shipped to the middle of the desert.

And just to ensure that we're all consumed with envy, Eamonn and Ruth chat to a billionaire who lives in the world's tallest building, the Burj Khalifa.

The inside story

THE BETRAYED GIRLS | BBC1 8.30PM

Earlier this year, the acclaimed drama Three Girls brought home the sickening facts of the Rochdale sexual abuse scandal, and this one-off documentary gives us a chance to hear from the real people at the heart of the story. The film features personal accounts from people who helped the young women, including health worker Sara Rowbotham and former cop Maggie Oliver, but it also explores why so many other people remained silent.

Time to talk

LIFE BEHIND BARS: VISITING HOUR | Channel 4 9PM

Visiting hour gives prisoners a short window of time in which to reconnect with people in the outside world – but how do they spend those 60 minutes?

This documentary observes the happenings in the visiting room of HMP Low Moss in Scotland, eavesdropping on the conversations as well as interviewing inmates, their visitors and prison staff about the experience. Visitors share their stories of feeling nervous and intimidated the first time they go in, while the staff note the topics of conversation that they notice the most often – with the terrible quality of the food being regularly mentioned.

We'll also hear from Gary and Charley, who are busily planning their wedding, even though Gary is yet to receive a release date.

BROKEN | BBC1 9PM

It's all coming to an end this week – by which we mean the series, although we could also be referring to Father Michael, whose wavering faith is leaving him with an important decision to make about whether he really belongs in the priesthood. Despite everything, he continues to try to be of support to his parishioners – but his offer of help to the Demichelis children is rejected by Chloe, who ends up venting her anger and frustration in a most dramatic way.

Passage to India

JOANNA LUMLEY'S INDIA | ITV9PM

There's a personal angle to Joanna's latest travelogue – she was born in India, but left when she was just a year old, so she has no personal memories of living there, only those she's gleaned from her parents.

In this three-part series, she's heading back to the subcontinent to see the places that her family once called home. Starting out in the city of Madurai, Joanna visits the towering Meenakshi temple and attempts to eat a traditional lunch with her bare hands, with moderate success.

Then it's on to Hyderabad, home of the Telugu-language Indian film industry referred to as "Tollywood", where their special effects team transforms Joanna into a goddess. And then she's off to Kolkata, the birthplace of her great-great grandfather.

Keeping mum

THE HIGHLAND MIDWIFE | Channel 5 8PM

In the Scottish highlands, chances are you might be a fair distance from the nearest hospital when your child decides to make an entrance. This three-part series begins with midwife Morven making a dramatic middle-of-the-night dash to assist Anastasia when she unexpectedly goes into Labour. And on the west coast, midwives help anxious expectant mum Samantha deal with residual traumas from a previous pregnancy.

THE DRESSING ROOM | W 10PM

We love the sheer variety of conversation topics on offer in this series as we flit from team to team. Tonight's highlights include the gay-friendly Manchester Village Spartans laughing at the story of a pal who was taken to hospital after being pushed off stage by a drag queen, and the pre-match motivation of Thatto Heath Crusaders as they prepare to play for a place in the league final.

COLONY | Sky 1 9PM

A history of Dance

WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE? | BBC1 9PM

"There's nothing aristocratic about me at all," declares Charles Dance at the start of this series, which is about as sure a sign as you can get that he's going to have some right poshos in his family tree somewhere.

Charles sets off armed with very little information – his dad died when Charles was four, and his mum didn't mention family much – but while talking to historian Fern Riddell, he finds that his great-great grandmother and grandfather were both married to other people.

This ignites Charles' interest, particularly his great-great grandmother's unusual maiden name, "Futvoye", so he heads to Derby to find out more. When he gets there, they've got more for him than just information – there are portraits, too...

Roll up, roll up...

CIRCUS KIDS: OUR SECRET WORLD | Channel 5 9PM

Head into the big top with this three-part series that investigates what it's like to be born into a circus family. Tonight's episode introduces us to 17-year-old Peter, who loves being on the move and being part of the circus, even when it means risking his life riding a motorcycle in the Circle Of Death. We'll also get to meet two-year-old twins Esmerelda and Scarlett, who are already on their way to becoming the stars of the show.

COUNT ARTHUR STRONG | BBC1 8.30PM

After yet another disastrous audition, Arthur's really starting to feel like nothing ever goes his way – that is, until Eggy turns up at the café with the wonderful news that there are people down the street giving away free biscuits. Thrilled at the prospect of maybe getting enough free biscuits to open a small shop, Arthur heads straight over – and doesn't seem to quite get the implications when it turns out to be a Scientology centre, and he has to take a personality test to get his biscuits.

Despite not exactly being the easy prey that the recruiter was hoping for, Arthur is quickly won over by the "Seismologists", as he calls them – especially when he begins to suspect that their influence has turned his fortunes around...

BIG BROTHER: LIVE EVICTION | Channel 5 10PM

This year's housemates are, we think, a fairly unengaging lot, and we've already lost quite a few of the ones who at least had the decency to use their awful personalities for the purpose of making good TV. Tonight, Emma Willis will be officiating as at least one more housemate loses their place, and we can only hope that the voting public don't see fit to evict one of the stirrers. So use your votes carefully, dear readers, we beg of you...

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

Who chooses the artwork for Weatherfield General hospital? Not very uplifting, is it?

Budgets have been slashed on the new series of Game Of Thrones.

BULLSEYE!

Normally it takes us about 20 years to get used to a new soap family. And to like them takes even longer. So that's why we're amazed by how hard we've fallen for Karen Taylor and her scrappy menagerie of kids. Walford was greatly in need of a kick up the arse – long may Karen, and actress Lorraine Stanley, stick around to put the boot in.

Ian Beale has had the same polo shirt for at least three years. He can't be keeping it for sentimental reasons – he was wearing it when he heard his daughter had been murdered.

Kudos to the Emmerdale soundtrack team, who had vicar Harriet driving towards her own stabbing while singing along to Billy Joel's Only The Good Die Young.

Hold those McCain ShakeShake™ Fries a bit higher, Doug! The sponsor is watching. And we hope you bought them using your Visa™ Contactless.

"What you doing this afternoon, mate?" "Oh, just popping out to the unveiling of a new sign at my local funeral parlour." "Of course. What could be more normal?"

We can't think where Michelle gets her style ideas from.

We love how baby Harry in Corrie is utterly captivated by the studio lights. So many! So high! So pretty!

Corrie's best guest performance in ages came from Lynne Verrall as Geraldine – Summer's vile, bigoted grandmother. What a total cow! (Geraldine, we mean. We're sure Lynne's lovely.)

The sexual tension between this pair is now unbearable. Just kiss already!
